Sands' Sarsaparilla,

For the removal and permanent cure of all Diseases arising from an impure state of the Blood or habit of the System.

This Medicine is constantly performing in every case of diseases arising from impurities of the blood and general system. It has arrested and cured numerous cases of scrofulous affections, diseases of the skin, rheumatic gout diseased liver, painful and dangerous enlargements of the joints, elbow, and wrist joint, chronic inflammation, sore throat, chronic constitutional disorders, and various other diseases arising from impure secretions.

These properties are strongly concentrated in the medicinal properties of Sarsaparilla, combined with other valuable extracts, the whole strength of which is extracted on an entirely new principle. The great object desired is now accomplished, in the production of a remedy possessing controuling power over hitherto incurable diseases.

A mass of the most overwhelming testamony could be brought forward proving most conclusively its unestimable values as an active and curative medicine.

The following interesting case is presented and the reader invited to its careful perusal. Comment on such evidence is unnecessary.

NANTUCKET, Mass., 8th mo. 31, 1844

A. B. & D. SANDS.—Esteemed Friends: A stranger to you, I do not feel a moment longer to defer the acknowledgement of a great indebtedness to you for your valuable Sarsaparilla, which has been the means, under a kind Providence, of my inexpressible relief.—I am almost urged to this acknowledgement by reflecting, that by my humble testimony hundreds of sufferers, miserable as I have been may be induced to try this remedy, and experience a care as speedily and happy as mine. For ten years I have been suffering under a painful affections of my Bones in my head and during a great part of this time, my pain was so unusually severe, that but for a reliance on the Great Disposer of events, I should gladly have welcomed and much preferred death itself. Several periods during my sickness, twenty teeth have been taken from my head at various ways, besides all my upper teeth, and the entire upper jaw, rendering the mastication of food impossible. After expending about six hundred dollars for medical aid, I had recourse to the universally celebrated Sarsaparilla, and with the first three months the use of twelve bottles, with the most beneficial operation, completely arrested the disease: the healing process is going forward, and I am rapidly approaching a perfect cure. Being extremely anxious that others laboring under simi lar circumstances, may have the advantage of my experience, I shall be most happy at any time to communicate to them or to you, such further and more minute particulars as may be desired. Please accept assurances of my great obligation and regard. BENJAMIN M. HUSSEY.

NANTUCKET, 9th Mo. 3d, 1844

A. B. & D. SANDS—Respected friends: Benjamin M. His case here is considered by all as an extraordinary one, and the cure effected is such as to entitle the Sarsaparilla to be ranked as a great blessing to the human family, and we consider it as such.

Yours with true regard, WM. MITCHELL.

Republication of the English Reviews.—We have received several numbers of the American reprint of the London Quarterly, Edinburgh, Westminster, and Foreign Quarterly Reviews, and Blackwood's Edinburgh Magazine, published by Leonard Scott & Co, 112 Fulton street, N. York, at a cost but little exceeding one-half what is charged for the English copies, although they are got up in a style fully equal to the originals.

These works contain, as is generally known, the essays, criticisms, &c. of the most eminent English writers, and embody in their pages a complete and satisfactory review of the literature of England and the European continent written in forcible and admirable style. They ought to be in the possession of every literary man in America, and the low price at which they are now offered will enable every one to enrich his library with the treasures they contain.—Apart from their high literary character, these periodicals are valuable to the American reader, as the exponents of the principles of the great political parties of England. The London Quarterly is devoted to the interest of the Tories, the Edinburgh to the Whigs, and the Westminster to the Radical or liberal party. The Foreign Quarterly is essentially a literary work, and is chiefly devoted to criticisms on Continental publications. Blackwood's Magazine, though strongly tory, and somewhat distinguished for a rancorous hostility to America and every thing American, is yet highly popular throughout the United States in consequence of the transcendent ability which characterizes its pages, and the racy and original style of its articles.

The Reviews are published quarterly, immediately on their arrival from England, at the low price of $3,00 each, per annum, or $5,00 for any two of them, $7,00 for three, or $8,00 for the four. Blackwood's Magazine is published monthly at $3,00 per annum.

FOURTH OF JULY.

Celebration at Columbia, Whitley Co.—We have received a circumstantial account of the glorious doings at Columbia on the Fourth of July, which our limits will not allow us to publish entire. A concourse of citizens from all parts of the County assembled at Columbia on the morning of the Fourth, and at ten o'clock a procession was formed at the Court House in the following order:

Music.

28 Young Ladies, carrying banners, representing the sovereign States in the Union.

Officers of the day.

Ladies

Citizens.

The procession marched through the principal streets to a grove where a suitable stand and seats had been erected, and after an appropriate prayer by Rev. Mr. Bradley, the Declaration of Independence was read by Mr. Chas. W. Hughes; after which Jas. H. Pratt, and J. H. Tyler, Esqs. delivered orations suitable for the occasion. The procession (which numbered from six to seven hundred persons) was then re-formed and marched to the public square where a table 140 feet in length was prepared for a pic nic dinner, which was partaken of with universal satisfaction. Our correspondent informs us that the table "was laden with the luxuries and choicest "fixins," got up in a style that would do honor to an eastern city, and was truly no insignificant compliment to the committee of arrangements and the ladies of Whitley County." After the dinner 30 regular toasts and any quantity of volunteer were given. The following is a portion of the

REGULAR TOASTS.

The day and the occasion.—May the first awaken recollections to render joyous the festivities of the latter.

The signers of the Declaration of American Independence.

The memory of the officers and soldiers of the Revolution.

The memory of George Washington;—May it be cherished by every American, so long as virtue and patriotism hold a place in their hearts.

The venerable Ex Presidents of the United States;—May the evening of their days be as calm as was the meridian bright and glorious.

The President of the United States.

The Army of the United States.

The Navy of the United States.

May the sons of Columbia, hail the proud day that gave them birth as an independent nation.

The memory of Benjamin Franklin, the Philosopher and Printer.

The orators of the day—May their virtue and patriotism be co-extensive with the fervor of their eloquence and find no grave but in the hearts of their countrymen.

The American Eagle—May her beak and her talons prove as effective on the Mexican Vulture as they did on the carcass of the the British Lion.

Liberty—It took three hundred years for it to die in Rome, and our Liberty if it dies at all will take much longer, as our intelligence and free institutions, have given us more bone, sinew and vitality.

Mexico.—

"With smooth dissimulation skill'd to grace
A devil's purpose with an angel's face".

The Ladies of northern Indiana, beautiful as the fairies and wise as Zobeida, may they never have a coward for a friend or a tory for a husband.

Columbia; may she live and flourish like the green bay tree, and the bright days of her prosperity never have an end.

The Hoosier State, may she speedily rise from her present embarrassed condition, and proudly and honorably take her stand with her elder and more fortunate sisters.

May Honesty, Unity, and Concord preside over our festivities of this day, "for better is a dinner of herbs where love is, than a stalled ox and hatred therewith."

WHITLEY COUNTY, IND. July 7, 1846.

MR. TIGAR:

SIR,—The day has again to us returned, that brings to our remembrance the Spirit of Liberty which dwelt in the breasts of our Fathers, and led them to that noble daring, which, under God, has made us a free and happy people. Various are the ways in which this anniversary day of rejoicing is celebrated. It is not my present design either to praise or disprise any one of the ways: but briefly through you to let the readers of your paper know how this day was celebrated in the East of Whitley County, Ind.

By the hour of eleven o'clock, four S. Schools under the direction of the proper officers were seated in a handsome shady grove.

The exercises were commenced by uniting to sing a S. School Hymn, and then a prayer by the Rev. J. Wolf.

Judge Hanna of Fort Wayne, then addressed the school, and was listened to with much attention and delight by all. He stated, pleasingly and impressively, the peculiar advantages of S. S. instruction: the necessity of their acquiring a proper knowledge of God, and their duty to God, and their fellow creatures, and themselves, and of doing them. Also that in a few years they would receive from us, to hand down to their successors, the Institutions and Liberties of our beloved country; and he proved to them, if they would expect to transfer them pure, entire, unimpaired, they must become intelligent and moral.

A recess was now taken, and after all had eaten to satiety, no noise or disorder kind being either heard or seen, the schools again took their seats and very attentively listened to the Judge teaching them the true nature of Temperance and dissuading from dissipation, intemperance, and death.

The schools again united in singing a S. S. Hymn and the public exercises were closed with prayer by Rev. A. Merril. J. W.

[From the St. Johns N. B. News, June 16.]

DREADFUL CALAMITY.

ST. JOHN'S, N. F., IN RUINS.—An arrival at Pictou, from St. John's, N. F., brought papers containing accounts of a terrible conflagration, by which nearly the whole of that town was destroyed. The advices arrived in Halifax on Monday morning.

The fire commenced at half past eight o'clock, on Tuesday morning, the 12th instant in George's street, off Queen's street, in the room occupied as a dwelling, above the cabinet maker's shop of Mr. Hamlin, and raged until 7 o'clock in the evening, by which time the destruction was complete. It extended rapidly into Queen street and Water street consuming every thing in its progress, all the intermediate buildings, oil vats, wharves, &c. as far as Messrs. Newman's Here its ravages to the westward were stopped. From Warren's premises it took all the buildings to the eastward, making a clean sweep of wharves, vats, &c. The house of E. & N. Stabb was blown up in an attempt to stop the fire, in doing which one artillery man was killed, and another severely wounded.—Queen's street and Duckworth street are destroyed.

In the vats of J. & N. Kent, was the fat of 25,000 seals. The Catholic Church, and Episcopal residence in rear of Duckworth street, were saved. St. John's Church, the Cathedral Church of England burnt to the ground. The Court House, Jail, and all the buildings by which they were surrounded, are consumed—also the Commercial rooms, Marine Insurance office, Agricultural Society's Museum, Bank of British North America. The Congregational Chapel saved—Ordnance store burnt, but the rest of the building saved. The Nunnery School house and Nunnery burnt. Every printing office burnt, but part of the materials saved. Five or six thousand persons had to pass the night of that dreadful day, in the open air in front of the Government House.

The Churches and public buildings which the fire had spared were being hastily fitted up to shelter those who had been rendered houseless. The only mercantile establishment in St. John's now standing, is that of Messrs. Newman & Co. All the rest are destroyed. The Legislature is to be immediately assembled.

The papers mention the loss of life of three persons, two of them artillerymen, occasioned by the blowing up of the house above stated—the other an old man, who had saved his bed and other articles from the flames, but who sunk under the weight as he was carrying them to a place of safety, and immediately expired.

At the least calculation two-thirds of St. John's has been consumed, and the loss of property by this visitation is estimated at a million sterling. Two streets, each a mile long, and a number of detached buildings, have been totally destroyed, and six thousand persons have been rendered houseless.

The New Orleans Commercial Times says: An eminent commercial house of this city, has received instructions to charter a vessel, either for Vera Cruz or Tampico, for the purpose of conveying thither a gentleman who has recently arrived at the north, from England, together with four companions.—The letter to that effect, which has been exhibited to us, states that the party in question having powerful reasons for avoiding the Havana route, applied to our government at Washington, for permission to proceed to Mexico unmolested, and to charter vessel with that view at New Orleans. The request was not only granted, but instructions have been forwarded to Commodore Conner to facilitate the object of the travelers, by transferring them on board of an English man-of-war from whence they can be easily landed at either of the above mentioned places. The vessel will be ready to leave by the 1st of July.

The gentleman in question is a near relative of the Mexican Ambassador in London, and is waiting, probably at New York, for despatches by the Caledonia steamer, now due. His movements may have some connection with the existing state of affairs in Mexico. At all events, the inference is not improbable.

A TAILOR.—The Mexicans thought Taylor a good workman, and a large number of them gave him a trial. They found him industrious enough, and pretty good at cutting, shipping, and felling, but they couldn't stand his charges.

From Thomson's Recollections of Mexico.

MEXICAN WOMEN.

They have no fire places in Mexico, and I think this circumstance has a very great influence on their character. It is not easy to estimate the moral influence of these family reunions, to which we are accustomed, around the fire-side on long winter evenings, which are passed in reading some excellent book, or in conversation not less instructive.

In walking the streets of Mexico, it would be very safe to bet that eight out of every ten persons you would meet would be officers, soldiers, friars, or lepers, and it would be difficult to decide which class is the most numerous. All but the last of these classes are not only unproductive, but a charge upon the country. It does not seem to me that the whole productive industry of the country, so far as the Mexicans are concerned and excluding the profits of the labor and capital of foreigners, would be sufficient to support these drones.

I wish that I could in sincerity say that the ladies of Mexico are handsome. Their manners, however, are perfect; and in the great attributes of the heart, affection, kindness, and benevolence, in all their forms, they have no superiors. They are eminently graceful in every thing but dancing. That does not "come by nature," as we have the authority of Dogberry that reading and writing do; and they are rarely taught to dance, and still more rarely practice it.

I think that in another, and the most important point in the character of women, they are very much slandered. I am quite sure that there is no city in Europe of the same size where there is less immorality. Indeed, I cannot see how such a thing is possible. Every house in Mexico has but one outside door, and a porter always at that. The old system of the duenna, and a constant espionage, are observed by every one, and to an extent that would scarcely be believed. I have no doubt, however, that whatever other effects these restraints may have, their moral influence is not a good one. The virtue which they secure is of the sickly nature of hothouse plants, which wither and perish when exposed to the weather.—Women, instead of being taught to regard certain acts as impossible to be committed, therefore not to be apprehended or guarded against, are brought up with an idea that the temptation of opportunity is one which is never resisted.

I do not think that the ladies of Mexico are generally well educated. There are, however, some shining exceptions. Mrs. Almonte, the wife of Gen. Almonte, would be regarded as an accomplished lady in any country. The Mexicans, of either sex, are not a reading people. The ladies read very little.

The general routine of female life is to rise late, and spend the greater portion of the day standing in their open windows, which extend to the floor. It would be a safe bet at any hour in the day between ten and five o'clock, that you would in walking the streets see one or more females standing thus at the windows of more than half the houses. At five they ride on the Paseo, and then go to the theatre, where they remain till twelve o'clock, and the next day, and every day in the year repeat the same routine. In this dolce far niente, their whole lives pass away. But I repeat, that in many of the qualities of the heart, which make women lovely and loved, they have no superiors.

The war of independence was illustrated with many instances of female virtue of a romantic character, one of which I will mention. And I again regret that I have forgotten the name of the noble woman whose virtue and love of country was so severely tested. The lady to whom I refer had two sons, each of whom was in command of a detachment of the patriot army. One of them was made prisoner, and the Spanish General into whose hands he had fallen, sent for his mother and said to her, "If you will induce your other son to surrender his army to me, I will spare the life of the one who is my prisoner." Her instant reply was, "No! I will not purchase the life of one son with the dishonor of another and the ruin of my country. This fact is historic, and is more true than history generally is.

The ladies of Mexico dress with great extravagance, and I suppose a greater profusion of "pearl and gold"—I will not say more barbaric—than any other country. I remember that at a ball at the President's, Mr. Bocanegra asked me what I thought of the Mexican ladies; were they as handsome as my own countrywomen? I of course avoided answering the question; I told him, however, that they were very graceful, and dressed much finer than our ladies. He said he supposed so, and then asked me what I thought the material of the dresses of the two ladies which he pointed out had cost; and then told me that he happened to hear his wife and daughters speaking of them, and that the material of the dresses, blonde, I think, had cost one thousand dollars each. I asked, on the same occasion a friend of mine who was a merchant, what he supposed was the cost of an ornament for the head, thickly set with diamonds of the Senora A ——G——. He told me that he knew very well for he had imported it for her, and that the price was twenty-five thousand dollars; she wore other diamonds and pearls no doubt of equal value.

I have said that there are very rarely, if ever, any thing like evening parties, or tertulias; social meetings, or calls to spend the evening are quite as unusual, except among near relations, and even then the restraints of espionage are not at all relaxed. Persons who have seen each other, and been attached for years, often meet at the altar without ever having spent half an hour in each other's company. Ladies of the better classes never walk the street except on one day in the year, the day before Good Friday, I believe it is. But they make the most of this their sartumalia; on that day all the fashionable streets are crowded with them, in their best "bibs and tuckers," and glittering in diamonds.

The streets are always, however, swarming with women of the middling and lower classes. The only article of dress worn by these are a chemise and a petticoat, satin slippers, but no stockings, and a reboza, a long shawl improperly called by our ladies, a mantilla. This they wear over the head and wrapped close around their chin, and thrown over their left shoulder.

Whatever they may be in private, no people can be more observant of propriety in public; one may walk in the streets of Mexico for a year, and he will not see a wanton gesture or look on the part of a female of any description, with the single exception, that if you meet a woman with a fine bust, which they are very apt to have, she finds some occasion to adjust her reboza, and throws it open for a second. This reboza answers all the purposes of shawl, bonnet and muff to body.

The women of Mexico, I think, generally smoke, it is getting to be considered not exactly comme il faut, and therefore do it privately. As the men generally smoke, they have which Dean Swift recommends to all who eat onions, to make their sweethearts do it too.

"The committees, raised to investigate the charges against Mr. Webster, have reported, exculpating the latter. The committees were both composed of the political friends of Mr. Ingersoll, but they could not sustain him in the emergency."

Will Mr. Montgomery, of the please to inform us how much he intends to make, by publishing such a willful and deliberate falsehood, as that contained in the last paragraph of the above? It is well known that the committees are composed, one of three Democrats and two Whigs, and the other of two Democrats and three Whigs.—And more than this, we believe that Mr. M. KNEW this to be a fact at the time he penned the above. He could not help but know it; for at the time the committees were formed, the fact was published in nearly all the papers in the Union.—La Grange Dem.

☞ What does the editor of the Lagrange Democrat mean by always calling our neighbor of the Times Mr. Montgomery? He calls himself Mr. Wood—G. W. Wood and so publishes his name in the paper; and we presume he ought to know what his own name is. However, as the editor of the Democrat claims to know something of Mr W.'s early history, and has we believe the honor to be related to him, he may perhaps have some reason for addressing him by a name different from the one by which he is known here. It however looks a little suspicious to see a man passing by a different name in the west from the one he was known by in the east. Will the editor of the Democrat explain?

From the Boston Courier, a strong and able Whig paper:

MELANCHOLY SUICIDE!—It has become our painful duty to record the death of Major General WINFIELD SCOTT, the Commander-in chief of the United States Army. This unlooked for and forever to be lamented event, which terminated a career of usefulness and honor, happened at Washington on the 6th of June, just as the General was "sitting down to a hasty plate of soup." He perpetrated the rash and untimely act with a goose quill—"a bare bodkin." He was engaged in an interesting discussion about the "beef and mutton" on the banks of the Rio Grande, with the Secretary of War. * * *

We mourn for the country, in the deprivation it suffers by the removal of one of its most ambitious candidates for the office of President, and we sympathize most sincerely with the innumerable host of surviving candidates, who are thus deprived of the honor of beating him in the Presidential race.—We are not yet informed what disposition will be made of the General's remains. It has been suggested that they should be embowelled on the banks of the Rio Grande, where it is known there is abundance of "beef and mutton" in the month of September; but this would hardly be proper, seeing that they would there be exposed to the fire of Mexican guns, while they would as certainly be annoyed by an enemy in "certain quarter" at Washington. Our own opinion is, that they will be allowed to repose quie ly in some undisturbed corner of that vast sepulchral region, celebrated as the "Paradise of Fools."

Moses was a wise and considerate Legislator. He had a due regard for the rights of newly married men, and did not rudely break asunder the "silken tie that binds two willing hearts" The following is one of his enactments:

"When a man hath taken a new wife, he shall not go out to war; neither shall he be charged with any business, but he shall be free at home one year, and shall cherish his wife which he hath taken."—Deut. xxiv—5

Were the same wise and salutary law in force in these degenerate days, what an increase would there be in marriage fees—What crowds would shelter themselves under the matrimonial ægis, till the present war tempest had blown over!

"Ma," said an inquisitive little girl, "will rich and poor people live together when they go up to Heaven?"

"Yes, my dear they will be all alike there."

"Then, ma, why don't rich and poor christians associate together here?"

The mother did not answer.

"A child may ask a question which a philosopher cannot answer." To say nothing of a casuist, how could a CHRISTIAN answer the above?"

TEXAS NAVY — A survey of the three vessels comprising the Navy of the late Republic of Texas has been made recently by Capt Randolph, of the U. S. Navy Their hulls were found to be in excellent order, but the upper works had been much injured by exposure in a warm climate. They are now at Galveston, and only need a trifling expenditure of money to make them a valuable accession to the Navy of the United States.—The "Archer," an 18 gun brig, draws two feet and a half less with every thing on board than our largest class of schooners. The "Austin," a ship, has a heavier battery for her draught than any of our sloops of war.—The "St. Barnerd" is a schooner of 7 guns. These vessels are of superior model, possess fine sailing qualities, and are the very best kind of sea boats, as has been proved by their service in the Gulf of Mexico.

EPISODE IN THE HISTORY OF THE ARMY OF OCCUPATION—THE GENERALS IN CAMP.

The contrast of the two commanding Generals, Taylor and Arista, in the pomp and circumstances of war was characteristic of the different institutions under which they lived. There was a semi-barbaric splendor associated with Arista's according with the despotism of the Mexican government. A simplicity about that of Taylor's equally significant of pure Republican institutions.

The marquee of the commanding General of the Mexican forces was bell shaped, and of great size. The material of which it was composed was ornamented by parti colored stripes, giving it a holiday appearance. Around it were stationed gaily dressed officers who glistened in the sun, and were ever ready to pay the most abject respect to their chief. Led horses richly caparisoned, slowly paced in sight. Protecting its rear, like continued labarynthian walls, were arranged the equipage of the camp. Packsaddles for five hundred mules were tastefully placed for display, and their forms near by, heaped up in pyramidal confusion. To the north American soldier favored with the open air, this wealth seemed a vision of a fairy land, and its conventional possessor, rich beyond imagination, and powerful beyond comparison.

Bands of rude music almost constantly rent the air with their noisy labor. The furniture of the marquee was rich; the costly figured chests of the camp were the ornamental furniture; upon their tops reposed in ostentation the heavy silver service of the table, or the elegantly finished maps of the campaign.—In this array, sat the commanding General, surrounded by his numerous staff—his cloths of gay colors and laced to vulgar profusion. Visits of business, were received with pomp and endless delays; long lines of officials were and heard, and were impeded or assisted as suited the purposes best calculated, to impress the dusky natives and the buz of inflated greatness and hollow pretence, was triumphant.

About a mile above the city of Matamoras a little distance from the banks of the Rio Grande, is to be seen (June 1st) some stunted ill shaped trees, which bend their gnarled, almost leafless limbs over a group of three or four small tents, only different from those of the common soldier in their rear, in this that they are heterogeneously disposed of for shade, instead of being in a line, regardless of all else than military precision.

The plain about is dotted over with thousands of tents, before many of which were artillery, and groups of men and officers; and over some waved in triumph folds our national flag, giving promise of more importance and pomp, than the little knot to which we have particularly alluded. We wended our way on towards the dwarfish tree that was distinguished from being a few higher than the surrounding brush, and for the little group of tents that rested beneath them for they were pointed out as marking the head quarters of the commanding General of a triumphant American army.

Not the slightest token was visible, to mark one tent to the exclusion of another.—There were no sentinels or any military parade present; a chubby sunburnt child, belonging to the camp, was playing near by in the grass, temporarily arrested in its wanderings by some insects of unusual size that were delving in the dust. We presented ourself at the opening of one of the tents, before which was standing a dragoon's horse, much used by hard service. Upon a camp stool at our left sat Gen. ——, busily conversation with a hearty looking old gentleman, sitting on a box, cushioned with an Arkansas blanket, dressed in Attakapas pantaloons and a linnen roundabout and remarkable for a bright flashing eye, a high forehead, a farmer look, and rough and ready appearance. It is hardly necessary for us to say, that this personage was General Taylor, the commanding hero of two of the most remarkable battles on record, and the man who by his firmness and decision of character has shed lustre upon the American arms.

There was no pomp about his tent; a couple of rough blue chests served for his table, on which were strewn a masterly variety of official looking documents; a quiet looking citizen dressed personage made his appearance upon hearing the insignificant call of "Ben," bearing on a tin salver, of couple of black bottles and shining tumblers, arranged around an earthern pitcher of Rio Grande water. These refreshments were deposited upon a stool, and we helped ourselves," by invitation. We bore to the General a complimentary gift from some of his fellow citizens of New Orleans which he declined receiving for the present, giving at the same time a short, but "hard sense" lecture on the impropriety of naming children and places after men before they were dead, or of his receiving a present for his services before the campaign so far as he was concerned was finished."

With the highest possible admiration of the republican simplicity of the manners and character of Gen. Taylor, we bade him good day, with a higher appreciation of our native land, for possessing such a man as a citizen, and of its institutions for moulding such characters.

LET THE PEOPLE REMEMBER!—That during the short time in which the Democrats have had the ascendancy in this State, the expenses of the State Government has been reduced nearly $100,000! One hundred thousand dollars is a pretty snug sum to save in less than three years. Do the people wish to risk a change?—New Alb. Dem,

WHY SHOULD WHITCOMB BE REJECTED?—Is it because the people are averse to an economical expenditure of the public money? or is it because the Democratic State Administration has redeemed the State from the odium of repudiation?—New Alb Dem

SINGULAR UNION.—A marriage extraordinary was celebrated in the church of St. Martin, (Attakapas,) on the 23d ult. The groom was 91 years of age, and the bride, in white robe and white veil, was 101 years old. Both, without serious infirmities, kneeled down and made their first communion.—A marriage promise had existed between them for sixty five years.

SATURDAY, JULY 18, 1846.

CONGRESS.—By an article in another column it will be seen that the Tariff bill has passed the House. It has been introduced into the Senate, and was made the special order for Monday last, and every succeeding [illegible] til it is disposed of. The Senate has passed a bill for graduating and reducing the price of the public lands—Ayes 26, Nays 18. The bill was reported to the House and rejected—Yeas 81, Nays 98. A motion to reconsider was carried by the casting vote of the Speaker, and the House adjourned. It is thought the bill will pass after being amended.

MEXICO.—We have nothing from the seat of war this week of any consequence. Gen. Taylor is still waiting at Matamoras to receive all the necessary supplies before he commences his march to the interior; and some accounts state that he is getting impatient at the tardy manner in which they arrive. Volunteers are daily arriving at the camp, and by the time the supplies and means of transport are received, Gen. Taylor will have under his command a force amply sufficient to beat any thing the Mexicans can bring against him.

It is said that orders have been given to Com. Sloat, commander of the squadron in the Pacific to take possession of the forts in California.—This he has probably accomplished, and we may shortly expect to hear that the American flag waves over all the ports on the California coast.

An attack has been made on some Mexican gun boats at Tampico, by the boats of the U. S. ship St. Mary's, but as the Mexican vessels were securely anchored in an inaccessible position within the bar, and protected by the batteries on shore, nothing was effected excepting the silencing of one of the forts.

MOUNTED RIFLEMEN.—By an advertisement in another column, it will be seen that Lieut. Tipton has opened a recruiting station at Logansport, for the purpose of enlisting men to serve in the new regiment of mounted riflemen raised in pursuance of an act of the present session of Congress. This regiment is intended, we believe, to be chiefly used on the Missouri frontier, as a check on the numerous tribes of roving Indians in that region, and as an escort for the Oregon emigrants. If the war with Mexico should continue, it might probably be ordered to Santa Fe or California; but the chief object being the protection of the Oregon emigrants, the scene of its operations will mostly be on the route between Independence and Oregon. This will be a favorable opportunity for bold enterprising young men to explore that wild and romantic region; it is a chance that will, we should suppose, be eagerly embraced by numbers in this vicinity.

FEMALE SEMINARY.—It will be observed by reference to the proceedings of the friends of education, published in another column, that we are now in a fair way for having a Female Seminary established in our midst, worthy of the place in which we live. This object, so long and so shamefully neglected, has now received an impetus which will speedily result in the erecting of buildings, and the placing the institution on that firm and permanent basis which the merits of this community so much demands. A lot has already been purchased in one of the most elevated and healthy situations in the town, and a subscription opened for the erection of buildings, which has been very cheerfully and liberally responded to: and we doubt not that any additional aid requisite, will as freely be given, since to give to all religious and educational purposes, is the pride and characteristic of our community. We can only add that the Institution has our warmest and best wishes for its future prosperity.

GOV. WHITCOMB AND THE VOLUNTEERS.—An attempt is making by the whig press to create a prejudice against Gov. Whitcomb, and to implicate him in the trouble which occurred in relation to the formation of the regiments and election of officers. This is grossly unjust, and shows how little real grounds exist for complaint against Gov. Whitcomb, otherwise the whigs would not be compelled to resort to such unfounded and ridiculous charges. There were a great many office seekers at New Albany, and to their intrigues all the difficulty may be ascribed. The Governor never interfered in the election of officers, and did not even form the regiments until it was manifest that the companies could not come to any agreement among themselves on the subject. The Governor's whole course in this business merits the approbation of his fellow citizens, the grumblings of disappointed aspirants, and the misrepresentation of designing politicians to the contrary notwithstanding. In proof of this, we call attention to the following circular signed by 67 of the volunteer officers, including of course men of both political parties. Among the names we notice Capt. McLane and Lieut. Lewis of Mad Anthony's Guard, and Capt. Lasselle, of the Cass Co. company, who are all whigs, and had good reason to be dissatisfied with the maneuvering attending the election of officers If Gov. Whitcomb had been at all implicated in these intrigues, they would not of course have signed the circular; but as he had not, they felt it their duty as honorable men, to exonerate him from all participation.

CIRCULAR.

CAMP WHITCOMB, July 2, 1846.

We, the undersigned, officers of the Indiana Volunteers, now encamped at this place, desire, before leaving our shores for the seat of war in Mexico, to express our decided approbation of the conduct of Governor Whitcomb in the military operations generally, as connected with raising, assisting, assembling and organizing the Volunteers at this place. Although many obstacles lay in the way, when the call on Indiana was first made, and during the progress until the final organization of the troops, yet they have all been happily surmounted, and, as we believe, with all practicable expedition.

We are satisfied that his conduct throughout has been governed by a regard for the character of the State, and for the welfare and best interests of the soldier, and that it has merited the preference bestowed upon it by officers of the regular army, when compared with that of other States.

We make this statement as an act of justice, without distinction of party, in view of the many unfounded statements that were afloat.

PASSAGE OF THE TARIFF BILL.

The tariff bill introduced by Mr. McKay, from the Committee on Ways and Means, after some amendments, passed the House on the 3d inst. by a majority of 19; Yeas 114, Nays 95. All the members from Indiana, except Messrs. McGaughey and C. B. Smith, voted for it; as did also Mr. Brinkerhoof and the Ohio Democratic Delegation. The Union says:

"The vote was not sectional. The North the South, the East, and the West participated in the measure. The largest vote for the bill was from the West. The great, growing and glorious West, is in favor of Free Trade. That vast region, from which two [illegible] States, Wisconsin and Iowa, are about emerging, and whose entire representation will, under the census of 1850, at the present rate, reach 100 members, is almost unanimous for Free Trade.

"The following ten states were unanimously in favor of the Bill; New Hampshire, South Carolina, Alabama, Mississippi, Florida, Texas, Illinois, Missouri, Michigan and Arkansas. A majority of votes in favor of the bill was cast by Virginia, North Carolina, Georgia, Louisiana, Indiana, Ohio, Tennessee,—in all eighteen states, for the Bill.—New York was equally divided. Six states were unanimous against the Bill, and in three states a maj. of votes were cast against it in all, nine states against the Bill.

"The Democracy of New York covered themselves with glory in their support of the measure. From Pennsylvania, so distinguished in the wars of '76, and 1812, and so ever ready to pour out the best blood of her sons in defence of the country, there was but a single vote in favor—Mr. WILMOT."

The bill passed is that reported by the Committee of which Mr. McKay was chairman. Of its provisions, the Union says:

"It reduces the duties on cottons, on an average, at least 50 per cent. and on woolens at least 10 per cent. and so on with other articles. An effort was made by the Whigs to place salt on the free list. The calculation was that if salt was made free, and the fishing bounty abolished, the former might lose some of the Democratic votes from N. York and the latter might lose the 7 Democratic votes from Maine—and thus the whole bill might be defeated. The ayes and nays were taken five times on Salt. At length, however, it was determined not to place it on the free list. The duty has been reduced from 8 cents per bushel, which is equivalent to 100 to 150 per cent ad valorum, to 20 per cent ad valorum."

This vote was carried by 2 majority, and from the moment of its passage, the friends of the bill considered it safe.

Immediately after the passage of the bill, the House adjourned over until Monday, to allow members to celebrate the 4th of July.

Thus has been consummated another of the great measures to which the Democratic party pledged itself in the Convention at Baltimore. TEXAS has been admitted—OREGON has been secured—and the TARIFF has been reduced. With all the details of this bill we cannot pretend to be familiar, and we take it for granted that we would be saying of it than can be truly said of any human achievement, if we should say that it is perfect. But we do not doubt that it is a material improvement upon the Whig Tariff of 1842, and will work better for the country. At all events, let us give it a fair trial. The Washington Union says that it will produce an annual revenue of $28,000,000.

GENERAL GAINES.

A court of inquiry, to consist of Bv't Brig. Gen. H. Brady, Brevet Brig. Gen. G. M. Brooke, and Col. J. Crane, members, and Bv't Capt. J. F. Lee, recorder, has been ordered by the President to convene at Fort Monroe, on the 18th of July, to investigate the conduct of Bv't Major General Gaines.

1st. In calling upon the governors of several of the States for volunteers or militia to be mustered into the service of the United States, between the 1st and 16th of May, 1846; and to examine also into the authority and circumstances under which the said calls were made.

2d. In calling upon the governors of several of the States, between the 16th of May and 10th of June, 1846, for volunteers or militia to be mustered into the service of the United States; and also in appointing or authorizing certain individuals—from the 1st of May to the 15th of June, 1846—to raise troops to be mustered into the service of the United States; and to examine into the authority and circumstances under which such acts were done.

3d. In organizing and mustering, or causing to be mustered, into the service of the United States, a body of volunteers or militia of the State of Alabama about the 12th of June, 1846; and to examine into the circumstances calling for the said act of General Gaines, in reference to instructions given to him by the Secretary of War, in letters dated respectively the 28th of May and the 1st of June, 1846; and the order of June 2, 1846, relieving him from the command of the western division of the army.

4th. In giving orders, since the 1st of May 1846, to officers of the ordnance, commissary, quartermaster, and pay departments, to issue and distribute ordnance and ordnance stores, subsistence stores, and for the disbursement and payment of public funds to certain designated individuals or bodies of men; and to inquire also whether the persons to whom such issues or payments were ordered or made, were legally in the service of the United States, or properly authorized to receive, or have the custody of public property of money.

The court is ordered to report the facts of the case, and to express an opinion thereon.—Union.

DEPARTURE OF VOLUNTEERS.—The 1st Regiment of Indiana Volunteers, left this city on Sunday evening last, [the 5th inst.] on the steamers Cincinnati and Grace Darling, for their destination on the Rio Grande. Their boats left our wharf amidst the roar of cannon and the cheers of our citizens. As they departed many an eye was moistened by bitter tears, and many a sigh and prayer went up for their welfare and speedy return. God bless the noble souls.—New Alb. Dem

DREADFUL OCCURRENCE.—LIEUT PURSEL, of the Miami County Volunteers, was fearfully stabbed in the abdomen by one of his privates, on Saturday last, at the Camp. It appears that the private and another soldier were fighting, and the Lieut. attempted to separate them, whereupon one of them turned round and plunged a knife in his stomach. The culprit was tried by a Court Martial on Sunday morning, and, we believe, was sentenced to be shot. The sentence, however, was sealed up, and together with the prisoner, who was ironed and guarded, sent to Gen. Taylor. The Lieutenant's wound though very severe and dangerous is not considered a mortal one.—New Alb. Dem.

VOLUNTEERS—TIME EXTENDED.—In order to afford time for those small Companies desirous of responding to the call of their country, to increase their numbers to the complement required by Act of Congress—64 privates and 13 commissioned and non commissioned officers—the Adjutant General of the State of Pennsylvania has extended the period in which services may be tendered from the 22nd inst. until Saturday the 11th of July. Nineteen Companies, numbering about 1700 in all, have tendered their services to the President, through his excellency, Gov. Shunk. The Harrisburg Argus is severe on those commissioned companies of volunteers which have made a bona fide effort to meet the call—and save the State from the disgrace of the resort to a draft.—West Md Dem

REMEMBER!—When the democrats, with James Whitcomb at their head—took the reins of the State Government out in their hands they found the credit of the State in a most pitiable condition; the people borne down by heavy taxes—the expenses of the government most enormous; the finances of the people squandered and the coffers empty.

But what now is our condition? What has Whitcomb accomplished in the short space of less than three years? He has redeemed the credit of Indiana! The taxes of the people have not been augmented! The expenses of the Government have been REDUCED ONE THIRD!! The finances of the people have been carefully and zealously guarded, and judiciously expended!!—And the coffers of the State have been REPLENISHED!!!

And shall we now dispose of WHITCOMB, who has effected so much to redeem the State and substitute MARSHALL, who, as much as any other man, was instrumental in plunging her in difficulties? We fancy we can hear the indignant shout of No! Never!! coming from the mouth of every Indianian.—Western Dem.

JAMES WHITCOMB, THE GOVERNOR OF INDIANA, has done his duty in the present crisis like a man. His orders were made out clearly and intelligibly. He promptly provided the means for the volunteers in their march. He came to New Albany, the place of rendezvous himself, nearly at the time appointed, and there he has remained to attend to every duty as the occasion called. He has made himself accessible to all, prompt and ready to give every information and satisfaction in his power. The consequence is there has been comparatively little dissatisfaction, and we venture to say the business will be done in order in that State, and give less trouble in future than in any of our Western States.—Lou Dem.

ANOTHER TRICK.—It is asserted in various quarters that Paris C. Dunning has quarrelled with Governor Whitcomb, and has declined the canvass for Lieutenant Governor. This is all a fudge. Mr. Dunning is still in the field, and will continue to be so until he is elected Lieut. Governor or is beaten by the votes of the people. Mr. Dunning was anxious to go with the volunteers to Mexico, and they were solicitous that he should accompany them, but at the request of his political friends, he will remain at home and prosecute the canvass in person. So far from declining, he feels perfectly confident of success, and als believes that he could both go to Mexico and be elected Lieut Governor.—Indiana Dem.

RIVER RAISIN BANK.—We infer from a conversation with an intelligent Monroe gentleman that this is likely to prove a bad failure after all. We should doubt whether the assignees have available assets in their hands to any considerable amount. The principal asset seems to be a demand of about $40,000 against Prentiss Dow, of Cleveland, for money lent. Produce paper of the Bank, amounting to about $20 000, was also discounted or otherwise used in New York for the benefit of the Merchants Bank at Cleveland, of which Mr. Dow is the principal owner and officer. These two items are supposed to constitute nearly the entire assets of the Bank. Both seem to have gone into the hands of Mr. Dow, and their return must depend upon his ability and disposition. If paid at all, it will probably be in bills of the Bank, when they are depreciated to the lowest notch. If there is any brighter side of the picture, we hope some one knowing the facts will furnish it.—Detroit Adver.

Treasury Notes.—A correspondent of the Journal of Commerce, under the date of the 6th, writes that the Committee of Ways and Means reported a bill to authorize the President to cause Treasury notes to be issued for such sums as the exigencies of the government may require.

Not to exceed the sum of $10,000,000 of this emission to be outstanding at any one time; to be issued under the limitation and other provisions of the act of 12th Oct. 1845 except that the authority given by the present bill, shall expire at the end of one year from its passage; then if the President think it for the interest of the country, he is authorized to borrow a part of the amount, not exceeding one half—and to issue stock under the provisions of the act April 25, 1842 extending the loan of 1841 and increasing the same $5,000,000, providing that if the whole amount of the Treasury note, and loans now authorized shall not exceed 10,000,000.—The Treasury notes are not to bear more interest than 6 per cent. No part thereof shall be disposed of at less than par.

NEW SPURIOUS $10 INDIANA NOTES.—The Louisville Courier states that new counterfeits of the ten dollar notes of the State Bank of Indiana have just made their appearance, several of which have been passed in that city. They are dated May 10, 1846 payable at Indianapolis to H. Bates or bearer, letter A.; vignette, a naked figure sitting, a sailor pointing to water, and a ship in the distance, at the foot of the note an Indian in a canoe.

THE BUTLER BILL.

Having acted in behalf of a large body of the holders of Indiana Bonds in Europe, in a negotiation with the State for the adjustment thereof; and a law having been passed at the last session of the Legislature making provision for the payment of the bonds of the State on the principles therein expressed, and which has been communicated to the parties abroad. I have received by the Caledonia steamer the following resolutions adopted by the committee in London, having the business in charge, viz:

RESOLUTIONS.

1st. That under the circumstances stated in the report of Mr. Charles Butler, confirmed by a letter from his Excellency James Whitcomb, dated 5th February last, addressed to Mr Palmer it is the opinion of the undersigned that it will be for the interest of the bond holders of the State of Indiana to concur in the principle laid down in the act of the Legislature passed at Indianapolis on the 19th January last, for the adjustment of the public debt of that State, by the payment of one moiety of the principal and interest by taxation, and the other moiety by the property and tolls of the canal from the State line adjoining Ohio to Evansville on the Ohio river, such property to be assigned to three trustees, and the State to be freed from responsibility on that portion of the debt and interest so to be secured.

2nd. That Mr. C. Butler be requested to apply to the bondholders of the State of Indiana, resident in the United States, for their co-operation with bondholders in Europe, in carrying out the arrangement upon the principle stated in the foregoing resolution.

London, 30th May, 1846

Signed by { N. M. ROTHSCHILD & SONS. PALMER, MACKILLOP, DENT & Co. BARING, BROTHERS & Co. FRED'K HUTH & Co. MORRISONS, SONS & Co. MAGNIAC, JARDINE & Co.

In order to carry out the object of the last resolution, I take this method of respectfully requesting the holders of bonds, who may be desirous of securing the benefits of the law, to call at my office for information on the subject or otherwise advise me of their address, and of the amount held by them respectively, prior to the 11th day of July next. Unless certain provisions of the law be complied with by the first of January, 1847, it cannot take effect. Prompt action on the part of bondholders is therefore desirable.

Dated, New York, 27 June, 1847.

No. 20 Nassau street, New York.

THE CALIFORNIA EXPEDITION.—This expedition will be prosecuted with vigor.—Col. STEVENSON is a driving fellow, and will lose no time. He is under the patronage of Govs. WRIGHT and MARCY. The volunteers will be made up of mechanics and farmers, as far as possible, with a view to their final settlement in the country which they are about to conquer. Companies from the interior will be invited to join the regiment.—Volunteers will be secured a tract of land at the expiration of the war. It is a good chance for men of ambition and industry, who are willing to run the hazards of a little fighting. The expedition will start on the 1st of August, probably in the North Carolina.

Gen Urrea, who, it is said, is advancing with a force of from three to five thousand men upon Santa Fe, with a view of defending that section of the Republic of Mexico from invasion, is said to be a man of approved courage and military capacity. Should he make his appearance there in time to avail himself of the best point to repel invasion, as he, doubtless, has done, he may give the force under the command of Col. Kearney something to do before possession of New Mexico is obtained. In his absence, however, and with the acknowledged disposition of Armijo to show the Americans all possible favor, very little, if any, opposition will be made to the entrance of Col. Kearney into that department of the Republic. It will be, we suppose, the middle or latter end of August before Col. Kearney can cross the Rio del Norte, and Gen Urrea, has unquestionably, full time to prepare for his reception.—The prospect of resistance only gives to the expedition a little more interest, and all eyes will be henceforth on the watch for news from that quarter.—St. Louis Repub

THE NORTHERN STATES OF MEXICO.—It is stated that letters have been received at Washington, conveying the information that all the states of Mexico, North of 25 degrees, are preparing to assert their independence of the supreme Government of Mexico, to form themselves into an independent and friendly Republic, under the protection of our flag.—They have signified to our Government their willingness to declare for a provisional administration of their affairs as a Territory of the Union; reserving, however, the right to decline permanent annexation, if such should at a specified time, be the decision of the inhabitants. There is nothing improbable in these rumors, for before the war commenced the northern provinces were disposed to follow the example of Texas, and a strong party it was believed, had delared itself in favor of that course. The conduct of Gen. Taylor, since he has crossed the Rio Grande, and the respect that is paid by the American troops under him to persons and property, have inspired the Mexican people with a feeling strongly in favor of the Americans, while the privileges they now enjoy, of buying and selling free from the onerous restrictions imposed by the Mexican Government, in the way of tariff, have also given them an idea of the advantages to be derived from being under the laws of the United States. It is not singular then, that harassed to death by their persons and property by civil dissentions and arbitrary and unjust laws, that they should seek liberty and security under the flag of the United States, whose power they have assignally felt, and whose magnanimity, forbearance, and justice they so highly admire.—Phil. Ledger.

CALIFORNIA.—The Washington correspondent of the Philadelphia U. S. Gazette writes:

"You are aware that orders were some time ago sent to Col. Kearny, of the dragoons to put himself at the head of a body of dragoons and mounted rifl men and take up his line of march for Santa Fe, and it is supposed he will then be ordered into California. But his presence there will not be necessary, if what I learn be true, and I have it from the best authority, namely, that the Emigrants who have lately gone from Missouri to Oregon and California, number one thousand men rank and file, and are regularly organized into a regiment of mounted men—riflemen, as every man at least has his rifle.

"This body of men are to proceed to the South Pass with their wives and children, household stuff, flocks and herds, and then, sending the latter, (their families, &c, to Oregon, with a sufficient escort to protect them, they will proceed themselves, at once to California, where they are determined to effect a revolution, dismiss and send away the Mexican authorities, establish a government of their own, and take formal possession of the Province. About two hundred of these men are hardy mountaineers, who are perfectly familiar with the Rocky Mountains, where they are at home, all of them resolute, brave, determined, energetic men, whom no danger can daunt, no obstacle impede, no force not five or six times their own can defeat. California they have gone to take, and California they will have."

FORT WAYNE FEMALE SEMINARY.

Pursuant to previous public notice, the subscribers to the Fort Wayne Female Seminary held a meeting at the "Hedekin House" on the evening of July 14th, for the purpose of electing Trustees for the direction of said Seminary, and the erection of suitable buildings.

On motion of H. McCulloch, Hon. Samuel Bigger was called to the Chair, and John Hough Jun. chosen Clerk.

On motion of P. P. Bailey, the chair then appointed the following persons a committee to nominate Trustees; H. McCulloch, P. P. Bailey, and J. B. Hanna—which committee reported the following nominations: Sam'l. Hanna, Henry Rudisill, B. W. Oakley, Peter P. Bailey, and Hugh Miller; and an election being had they were found to be unanimously elected Trustees of the "Fort Wayne Female Seminary."

After a free expression of views on the part of the subscribers who were present, and an apparent determination that a Seminary should be built and carried on commensurate with the wants and importance of our City and surrounding country, the meeting adjourned.

JOHN HOUGH, Jr. Clerk.

Presentment of the Grand Jury of Allen County.

The Grand Jury would present the County Jail as a PUBLIC NUISANCE; believing the building better suited to the guardianship of a certain Goddess known as having charge of the filthy sewers &c in the city of Rome, than of a Prison House in the midst of the city of our intelligent and enlightened community. Although a similar presentment has been made by almost every Grand Jury for the last ten years, no steps have been taken to abate the nuisance.—Though we would institute no invidious comparisons, or irreverently associate the good with the evil, we would remark that this disgraceful building forms a curious contrast by the side of our churches, and the expenses of the erection of the same, when compared with the continuance of this nuisance forms a remarkable moral episode upon the age That this our protest against the longer existence of this Jail, shall be clearly and fully understood, we here indict and find guilty the old rickety stinking, log Jail, as a most positive, inexcusable, and unendurable PUBLIC NUISANCE.

DIED,—On Sunday last, MARIA CHARLOTTE, third daughter of Judge McMaken of this city, aged 19 years, 8 months, and nine days.

The deceased was of a feeble constitution of body but of vigorous mind, the powers of which she retained in full exercise to the last. Her latter years were full of pain which she bore with Christian patience. About fifteen months before her death she made a public profession of her faith in Christ, and united with the First Presbyterian Church in this place Her piety was unostentatious but sincere, as was shown by its fruits; her faith in her Saviour never wavered. Her affections were sanctified, and in the morning of life being made meet for the inheritance of the saints, she was in mercy called from this vale of tears to her home above, where there is fulness of joy. Each friend wiping away the starting tear, may use the language of her Pastor over her grave—"May my death like hers be that of the righteous, and my last end like hers." [COM.

On Thursday morning last, Miss SIDDENEY TIMMONS, daughter of Mr. P. Timmons of this city, aged 19 years.

Yesterday, aged 59 years, Mr. JOHN B. BECQUETT, silversmith, formerly of Lower Canada, but for many years a resident of this place.

Same day, aged 40 years, Mrs. ELIZABETH McCULLOCH, wife of Mr. Alexander McCulloch of this city.

From a letter from an officer in the Pacific, dated at Mazatlan, on the 19th of May, we learn that the news of Capt. Thornton's capture had just reached there, and they were to sail the next day, or the day after, to plant the American flag in California, by the capture of Monterey. At St. Francisco no more opposition was anticipated than Com. Jones met with on the capture of Monterey.

☞LIVER COMPLAINTS of bilious climates arise from the same causes which produce Fever and Ague, and are cured with the same certainty by Dr. Osgood's India Cholagogue. Even after the Liver has become much enlarged and tender upon pressure, it is in a few weeks restored to its natural size, soreness and pain in the side relieved, with such general improvement as denotes returning health.

Another Proclamation.

OWING to the peculiar relations of our Government with Mexico, the probability of an amicable adjustment of the boundary question, the repeal of the Corn Laws, and many other causes that may operate to reduce the price of goods. Therefore, in view of which taken in connection with the lateness of the season, it is hereby ordered that all of our consisting of a most splendid assortment of LAWNS, light and fancy DELAINES, ROBES, SHADED MATQUIS, &c., &c., be sold at New York cost for CASH only.

Summer Goods,

There is no humbug about this, and no person who calls shall go away without a dress, for if they don't cash with the price we will make them a present of the dress, the price being so low that it will make but little difference to us whether we sell these goods or give them away. We will sell a beautiful article of Lawn for 25 cents per yard, and a very handsome De Lain for one shilling. The fact is we will not winter over Summer Goods. We always did and always will have fresh new and fashionable goods for each spring and fall trade. Some of our goods have just come to hand, (owing to the breach in the Erie Canal or the negligence of Forwarders) and we don't intend to keep them long. Drop in and see these goods—they must be sold or given away immediately.

DR. SWAYNE'S

Compound Sy up of Wild Cherry.

The greatest remedy for Consumption, Colds, Coughs, Spitting of Blood, Bronchitis. Difficulty of Breathing, Asthma, Pain in the Side and Breast, Whooping Cough, Croup, and all disorders of the Liver and Lungs, broken Constitution, &c., &c.

THIS "Celebrated Remedy" has now, by its intrinsic virtues acquired a celebrity which can never be shaken by the many quack "Nostrums" with which the country abounds. The public are fast learning that this is the only remedy that can be relied upon for the speedy and permanent cure of all Diseases of the Lungs. It is literally sweeping Consumption from the land wherever it is introduced and becomes known, all others dwindle into insignificance; the public have been "humbugged" long enough, and now resort to a medicine which the testimony of the most eminent physicians in the land has placed above the reach of criticism. It requires no bolstering up by publishing columns of forged certificates—but it is enough to let the public know where it can be obtained, and one trial will convince all of its great efficacy in curing those distressing diseases above named, which have baffled the skill of the most learned practitioners for ages heretofore. "Dr. Swayne's Compound Syrup of Wild Cherry," was the first preparation from that valuable tree, that was ever introduced to the public, and ample proof is afforded of its success, by the country being flooded with "Balsams," "Candies," and "Mixtures" of Wild Cherry, not one of which is prepared by a regular physician. Therefore, the public should be on their guard, and not have a worthless mixture palmed upon them for the original and genuine preparation, which is only prepared by Dr. Swayne, at the N. W. corner of Eighth and Race streets, Philadelphia.

Foreign Periodicals.

REPUBLICATION OF

The London Quarterly Review,
The Edinburgh Review,
The Foreign Quarterly Review,
The Westminster Review,
AND
Blackwood's Edinburgh Magazine.

The above Periodicals are reprinted in New York, immediately on their arrival by the British steamers, in a beautiful clear type, on fine white paper, and are faithful copies of the originals—BLACKWOOD'S MAGAZINE being an exact facsimile of the Edinburgh edition.

The wide-spread fame of these splendid Periodicals renders it needless to say much in their praise. As literary organs, they stand far in advance of any works of a similar stamp now published, while the political complexion of each is marked by a dignity, candor and forbearance not often found in works of a party character.

They embrace the views of the three great parties in England—Whig, Tory, and Radical.—"Blackwood" and the "London Quarterly" are Tory; the "Edinburgh Review," Whig; and the "Westminster," Radical, The "Foreign Quarterly" is purely literary, being devoted principally to criticisms on foreign Continental Works.

The prices of the RE-PRINTS are less than one-third of those of the foreign copies, and while they are equally well got up, they afford all that advantage to the American over the English reader.

N. B.—The Postage on all these Periodicals is reduced by the late Post Office law, to about one third the former rates, making a very important saving in the expense to the mail subscribers.

United States Army.

RECRUITING SERVICE.

WANTED for the MOUNTED RIFLE REGIMENT of the UNITED STATES ARMY, a few ABLE BODIED CITIZENS, between the ages of 18 and 35 years, being above 5 feet 5 inches high, of good character, and of respectable standing among their fellow-citizens—None need apply to enter the service, but those who are determined to serve the period of their enlistment,—which is five years—honestly and faithfully.

This table shows the amount of pay which enlisted soldiers, according to their respective grades, are entitled to receive for their services.	Pay of DRAGOON Soldiers and MOUNTED RIFLEMEN.
	Pay per month.	Pay per annum.	Pay for 5 years
To the Sergeant Major, Quartermaster Sergeant, Chief Musician, and Chief Bugler—each	Dollars 17	Dollars 204	Dollars 1020
To the first Sergeant of a Company	16	192	960
All other Sergeants—each	13	156	780
Corporals	10	120	600
Buglers	9	108	540
Farriers and Blacksmiths	11	132	660
Privates	8	96	480

Besides the monthly pay, as above stated, one ration per day is allowed every soldier, which is amply sufficient for his subsistence—also, a large supply of comfortable and genteel clothing. Good quarters and fuel are at all times furnished; and every attention will be paid in making those men who may enlist, and are determined to serve their country in good faith, comfortable and contented with their situation The best medical attendance is always provided for the sick soldier; and no deduction of pay is made during the period he is unable to perform his duty. Should the soldier be disabled in the line of his duty, the laws provide a pension for him.

By the above it is seen that the pay and allowances are respectable, and that, with prudence and economy, the monthly pay of the soldier may be laid up—as every thing requisite for the comfort and convenience is furnished by the Government, including his sugar and coffee. The prudent soldier, therefore, may readily save from $420 to $1020 during his enlistment of five years; and at the expiration of the term he can, if he chooses, purchase a small farm in one of the Western States, and there settle himself comfortably, on his own land, for the rest of his life.

S. S. TIPTON, First Lieutenant
Mounted Rifleman, United States Army, Recruiting Officer.

NOTICE.

THERE will be trouble in the camp, if persons knowing themselves in debt to the undersigned, either by note or account, which has been standing over three months do not come and settle them without delay, for further indulgence will not and cannot be given. Some have been standing five or six years, and if they are not settled soon they will be handed over to the proper authority for collection. You will please bear in mind that the appraisement law on personal property will not be noticed; and as I have taken James M. Hamilton as a partner with the view of settling up my old business, I hope the above will not be treated as a mere formal invitation, and neglected until too late to repent.

April 3. THOMAS HAMILTON.

Mammoth Cave.

HERE we are again at the old Stand, the extreme Eastern store, on Columbia street (North side) with more and cheaper GOODS than we ever offered in this market. It has been said by some of our friends, that we have more Goods than we can sell, but they do not understand how exceedingly low we design selling them, we are determined to sell at prices that will compete with any in this market, and that too without standing in the street to hail every person to buy our Goods. It has been a matter of speculation with men engaged in the Mercantile business, whether it is possible to sell goods in an equitable manner or not, or in other words, whether it is possible to sustain A One Price Store, where all could buy goods without fear of paying an Extra Price to make up for the loss on a previous sale. The subscribers wish to say to the public that they have been engaged for the last eighteen months in endeavoring to solve the above question and it is with great satisfaction that we now promulgate the fact that the plan of selling goods at a small advance and uniform price works well, we take this method of informing our customers that we feel gratified for the patronage heretofore so generously bestowed and the public generally, that we have a full and complete stock of

Fort Wayne Female Semitary.

THIS institution, as yet in its infancy, has been commenced under favorable auspices, with special reference to the wants of this section of our country. It is the design of the proprietors and principal to render it permanent and efficient, and they hope eventually to put in on a level with the best seminaries of our land.

The government is parental and kind, but decided and firm—enforced by reason and affection—sustained by the Bible, and administered in such a manner as will inculcate the important lesson of self government.

The course of instruction is designed to be extended and thorough, embracing Reading, Orthography, Writing, Arithmetic, Geography, English Grammar; History, ancient and modern, but especially of our own country. Watts on the Mind, Antiquities, Composition, Natural History, Natural Philosophy, Physiology, Political Science, Botany, Chemistry, Astronomy, Geometry, Algebra, Rhetoric, Intellectual and Moral Philosophy, Criticism, Logic, Evidences of Christianity, Analogy of Natural and Revealed Religion, and Music. When requested, instruction will be given in Needle Work, &c. A short time each day will be devoted to CALISTHENIC EXERCISES, adapted to promote health and graceful motion.

Believing that a knowlege of these branches is only a part of education we would, while endeavoring to unfold the intellect, take special care to instil right principles, develope the physical and moral powers, and form the manners and habits.

Arrangements are being made for the erection of suitable buildings. As soon as those are completed, a Library will be procured, and a Cabinet commenced by purchases and the contributions of friends.

TUITION, per quarter in the regular branches from . . . . $3 to 6 00

Instruction in Music, guitar or piano, 6 to 8 00

Lessons in Drawing and Painting, or French 4 00

Board can be procured on reasonable terms.

The summer term of two quarters will commence April 27, 1846.

Cash for 20,000 Bushels

OF WHEAT,

At the Empire Mills.

WE are prepared to pay CASH and the HIGHEST PRICE for 20,000 bushels of good merchantable Wheat.

Farmers and Teamsters will save themselves much trouble and expense by driving directly up to the STONE MILLS and unloading; they will always get the highest price, and avoid the annoyance of being pestered by the barkers and whipper snappers from the Stores, who now infest our streets and are such a bore to all who bring wheat to our market. We are not much given to boasting; but as some of our neighbors are talking of wanting 10,000 bushels of wheat we would inform wheat raisers that we can take in 20,000; as our Mill, besides being the best, is the biggest, the highest, and the strongest in the country. We have a convenient WAGON-YARD and STABLE, for teams coming to the Mill, and a HOUSE for the Teamsters; we always furnish feed for the horses, and occasionally throw in Supper and Breakfast for their drivers. This is nothing new with us—we have always thought it our duty to do so, and should not now mention it if our neighbors had not set the example.

We keep constantly on hand FLOUR OF THE BEST QUALITY and all kinds of Mill Stuff; and promptly grind every thing in the shape of Custom Work—always excepting White Oak Tan Bark, or the "face of the Poor."

BY THE QUEEN'S PATENT.

TRIUMPHANT SUCCESS OF

BUCHAN'S

Hungarian Balsam of Life,

THE GREAT ENGLISH REMEDY FOR

Colds, Coughs, Asthma, and

CONSUMPTION!

THE most celebrated and infallible remedy for Colds, Coughs, Asthma, or any form of Pulmonary Consumption, is the Hungarian Balsam of Life, discovered by Dr. Buchan of London, England, tested for upwards of seven years in Great Britain and on the Continent of Europe, and introduced into the United States under the immediate superintendence of the inventor.

The astonishing success of the Hungarian Balsam, in the cure of every kind of CONSUMPTION, warrants the American Agent in soliciting for treatment the worst possible cases that can be found in the community—cases that seek relief in vain from any of the common remedies of the day, and have been given up by the most distinguished Physicians, as confirmed and incurable. The Hungarian Balsam has cured, and will cure, the most desperate of cases. It is no quack nostrum, but a standard English Medicine, of known and established efficacy.

Hear the Press.

From the Christian Observer, March 20, 1845—The public may place the utmost reliance upon the statements respecting the Hungarian Balsam, by Dr. Bradlee, the American Agent, who is an old and highly respectable citizen of Boston, a member of a Christian church, and a man who would not, for any consideration, give his influence in favor of any sort of deception or imposture.

From the Boston Medical Recorder—Dr. Bradlee, the American Agent, has conferred a great blessing upon the country by the introduction of this great English Medicine into the U States; and medical journals would materially aid the cause of true humanity, by recommending it to the particular attention of the afflicted.

From the New England Operative.—The Hungarian Balsam has done more to relieve the sufferings of the operatives employed in our cotton factories, who are affected with weak lungs, than all the doctors in the country.

From the Thompsonian.—If any thing could reconcile us to a departure from Thompsonian principle, in the treatment of disease, it would be the extraordinary reputation of a medicine like the Hungarian Balsam, which we believe both from careful analysis, and the statement of the inventor, to be a purely vegetable compound. The effect of this medicine, in cases of Consumption, is something truly astonishing.

To the Consumptive!

Every family in the United States should be supplied with Buchan's Hungarian Balsam of Life, not only to counteract the consumptive tendencies of the climate, but to be used as a preventive medicine in all cases of Colds Coughs, spitting of Blood, Pain in the Side and Chest, Irritation and Soreness of the Lungs, Bronchitis, Difficulty of Breathing, Hectic Fever, Night Sweats, Emaciation and General Debility, Asthma, Influenza, Hooping Cough, and Croup.

Beekman's Pulmonic Syrup

CONSUMPTION, COLDS, COUGHS, DISEASES OF THE LUNGS, LIVER COMPLAINT AND DYSPEPSIA.

THIS SYRUP may be considered altogether superior to any medicine hitherto discovered for the cure of Consumption, Bronchitis, Asthma, Influenza, Coughs, Colds, Croup, Whooping Cough, Catarrhs, and, generally, all diseases affecting the Organs of Respiration. And not only is it the most powerful agent known in removing all diseases and obstructions of the respiratory organs, but in scrofulous affections it has been found equally efficient, having been employed with astonishing success in the radical cure of King's Evil, Eruptions of the Skin, Ulcerations, and the like complaints, caused by the impurity of the blood. In Dyspepsia and Liver Complaints it has proved a certain remedy. This Syrup, although powerfully curative in its results, is yet mild in its action, and may be safely employed in the most delicate cases. It is agreeable to the taste and to the stomach, and in diseases of women and children the most extraordinary cures have been effected.

The operation of this Syrup is both general and special. While it acts generally upon the whole system as a most powerful alterative, purifying the fluids, freeing the solids from all morbid accretions, and reinvigorating and bringing up all the vital energies to the standard of permanent health, it at the same time, exerts a specific influence upon the Lungs, Bronchial Tubes, Windpipe and Throat, and the Lymphatic and Glandular systems, exciting them into healthful activity, removing all morbid matter, equalizing the circulation, restoring the proper and necessary secretions, and finally accomplishing a complete renovation from disease, and restoration to sound and permanent health.

Those who have been racked by the protracting fevers, and lung as well as pleuritic and dyspeptic affections of the West and South; those who have been brought down by the inflammatory, febrile, or chronic diseases more common to the East and North; those whose constitutions have become enfeebled by the use of mercury, quinine or other violent remedies, should lose no time in betaking themselves to an adequate restorative. The consumptive predisposition, in its various and deceitful forms, is already, in a greater or less degree, acquired. The fatal taint will descend to unfortunate offsprings. And if no sufficient remedial course be adopted and persevered in, parents first, and children afterwards, sink into early or premature graves—victims alike, of the same wasting, deadly malady.

These lamentable results could and should be prevented. It has been well remarked that health is cheap at any price. Besides the strongest motives of self-preservation, the strongest ties of parental responsibility and love demand that these pernicious constitutional tendencies be promptly met, thoroughly combatted, and if possible, finally eradicated. In most cases, it can be done. My confidence is based upon the solid ground work of a wide and successful experience. It has been done in numerous instances. And I have witnessed many a shattered constitution and many a deep rooted and apparently mortal sickness, give place to a gradual restoration to ultimate strength and health.

Beekman's Pulmonic Syrup is the safest and surest and best remedy that can be employed to accomplish these most desirable and important ends. It has grown rapidly and necessarily into extensive use. Its operation is so mild that the tenderest infant may take it, and yet so powerful as to overcome, completely, the most inveterate of maladies. Travelling with the circulation, it pours its healing current through every vein and artery of the human body. The whole animal economy is made to undergo a thorough, radical change. Even the mind partakes of the healthful process, and life, that before appeared one dreary waste, begins again to seem worth possessing.

Many eminent physicians, convinced that my syrup is compounded upon the soundest principles of Medical Botany, and prepared upon the most scientific principles of chemical analysis as applied to materia medica, are now employing and recommending it in their practice. And I repeat, it will be found, as it has been almost invariably, successful where a fair trial is given it, attended by a careful compliance with the directions accompanying each bottle.

Dr. Folger's Olosaonian,

OR

ALL-HEALING BALSAM.

THE Proprietor of this remedy, in offering it to the public, is actuated by a desire to benefit his fellow beings. From the commencement of his practice in the year 1823 his attention was particularly directed to the various diseases which affect the Chest—he has watched their progress day by day—he has made trial through a series of years of the various remedies reccommended by different reputable members of the faculty upon those who have applied to him for Medical advice, and is now able to form a correct opinion, not only of the virtues of the remedies commonly prescribed in such ailments, but also of the curability of the complaints for which the Olosaonian is recommended. He has paid the most unwearied attention, during his time to the numerous diseases of the Lungs, in connection with the Liver and Digestion Organs, and has fully investigated the causes which lead to a fatal termination in the above mentioned diseases, and which may be attributed, in a great measure to the treatment pursued in the early stages of the disease.

The frequent solicitations of those who have been signally benefitted by this remedy have reduced the proprietor to bring it before the public. He knows, from much experience, that Consumption is a disease which requires all the attention which can be bestowed upon it, and all the art which a well-informed practitioner of medicine can possibly bring to bear upon that complaint. He has been fully persuaded that the course of treatment commonly pursued will generally lead to fatal results, and it is this conviction which has led him to labor diligently with a view, if possible, to discover the proper means whereby health may be restored, and the Destroyer of the fair, the young, the beautiful be overcome. The cures which it has already performed shows that he is not offering a medicine which is worthless, or seeking after a reputation for having discovered a remedy to which he is not justly entitled. It has been used with the most astonishing success when all other means had apparently failed. It has given repose, slumber and repose to those whose rest has been broken by a tiresome and a tedious cough, it has allayed the Pain in the Chest consequent upon the same and has, in num

Sands' Sarsaparilla,
For the removal and permanent cure of all Diseases arising from an impure state of the Blood or habit of the System.

This Infusion is constantly performing in countless cases of disease arising from impurity of the blood and general system. It has never yet failed to cure numerous cases of scrofulous affection or diseases of the skin, rheumatic gout diseased liver, painful and dangerous enlargements of the knee, elbow, and wrist joint, chronic sore throat, chronic constitutional disorders, and various other diseases arising from impure humors.

In the preparation of this strongly concentrated alterative medical properties of Sarsaparilla, combined with other valuable extracts, the whole strength of which is extracted on an entirely new principle. The great object desired is now accomplished, in the production of a remedy possessing astonishing power over hitherto intractable diseases.

A mass of the most overwhelming testimony could be brought forward proving most conclusively its inestimable value as an active and efficient medicine.

The following interesting case is presented and the reader invited to its careful perusal. Comment on such evidence is unnecessary.

NANTUCKET, Mass., 9th mo. 31, 1844
A. H. & D. SANDS.—Esteemed Friends: A man not entirely a stranger to you, I do not feel at liberty any longer to delay the acknowledgement of a great indebtedness to you for your valuable Sarsaparilla, which has been the means, under a kind Providence, of my inexpressible relief. I am almost urged to this acknowledgment by collecting, that by my humble testimony hundreds of sufferers, miserable as I have been may be induced to try this remedy, and as positive a cure as speedily and happy awaits for you, as I have been suffering under a scrofulous affection of my body in my head and during a great part of this time my pain and suffering was severe, but for a term, because of the Great Disposer of events, I should have declined and much preferred death itself. At different periods during my sickness, twenty pounds of ice have been taken from my head to relieve its heat, but dwell on my present, and that restless night, rendering the enunciation of a few words impossible. After expending about six hundred dollars for medical aid, I had resource to your justly celebrated Sarsaparilla, and with in the first three months the use of twelve bottles has, with the most unusual alteration, completely arrested the disease; the healing process is going forward, and I am rapidly approaching a perfect cure. Being extremely unwilling others laboring under this fearful guilt, may have the advantage of my experience, I shall be most happy at any time to correspond with them or to you, such further and more particulars as may be desired I have accept assurances of my great obligation and regard.

He was here in a very reduced and extraordinary way, and no one or all together was such as to entitle the Sarsaparilla to be ranked as a great blessing to the human family, and we consider it as such.

THIS is the most pleasant and agreeable way of taking medicine, particularly for children, as all the nauseousness is obviated and the active properties of the medicine, highly concentrated. Republication of the English Reviews.—We have received several numbers of the American reprint of the London Quarterly, Edinburgh, Westminster, and Foreign Quarterly Reviews, and Blackwood's Edinburgh Magazine, published by Leonard Scott & Co., 112 Fulton street, N. York, at a cost but little exceeding one-half what is charged for the English copies, although they are got up in a style fully equal to the originals.

These works contain, as is generally known, the essays, criticisms, &c. of the most eminent English writers, and embody in their pages a complete and satisfactory review of the literature of England and the European continent written in forcible and admirable style. They ought to be in the possession of every literary man in America, and the low price at which they are now offered will enable every one to enrich his library with the treasures they contain.—Apart from their high literary character, these periodicals are valuable to the American reader, as the exponents of the principles of the great political parties of England. The London Quarterly is devoted to the interest of the Tories, the Edinburgh to the Whigs, and the Westminster to the Radical or liberal party. The Foreign Quarterly is essentially a literary work, and is chiefly devoted to criticisms on Continental publications. Blackwood's Magazine, though strongly tory, and somewhat distinguished for a rancorous hostility to America and every thing American, is yet highly popular throughout the United States in consequence of the transcendent ability which characterizes its pages, and the racy and original style of its articles.

The Reviews are published quarterly, immediately on their arrival from England, at the low price of $3,00 each, per annum, or $5,00 for any two of them, $7,00 for three, or $8,00 for the four. Blackwood's Magazine is published month ly at $3,00 per annum.

FOURTH OF JULY.

Celebration at Columbia, Whitley Co.—We have received a circumstantial account of the glorious doings at Columbia on the Fourth of July, which our limits will not allow us to publish entire. A concourse of citizens from all parts of the County assembled at Columbia on the morning of the Fourth, and at ten o'clock a procession was formed at the Court House in the following order:

Music.
28 Young Ladies, carrying banners, representing the sovereign States in the Union.
Officers of the day.
Ladies
Citizens.

The procession marched through the principal streets to a grove where a suitable stand and seats had been erected, and after an appropriate prayer by Rev. Mr. Bradley, the Declaration of Independence was read by Mr. Chas. W. Hughes; after which Jas. H. Pratt, and J. R. Tyler, Esqs. delivered orations suitable for the occasion. The procession (which numbered from six to seven hundred persons) was then reformed and marched to the public square where a table 140 feet in length was prepared for a pic nic dinner, which was partaken of with universal satisfaction. Our correspondent informs us that the table "was laden with the luxuries and choicest "fixins," got up in a style that would do honor to an eastern city, and was truly no insignificant compliment to the committee of arrangements and the ladies of Whitley County." After the dinner 30 regular toasts and any quantity of volunteer were given. The following is a portion of the

REGULAR TOASTS.

The day and the occasion.—May the first awaken recollections to render joyous the festivities of the latter.

The signers of the Declaration of American Independence.

The memory of the officers and soldiers of the Revolution.

The memory of George Washington;—May it be cherished by every American, as long as virtue and patriotism hold a place in their hearts.

The venerable Ex Presidents of the United States;—May the evening of their days be as calm as was the meridian bright and glorious.

The President of the United States.

The Army of the United States.

The Navy of the United States.

May the sons of Columbia, hail the proud day that gave them birth as an independent nation.

The memory of Benjamin Franklin, the Philosopher and Printer.

The orators of the day—May their virtue and patriotism be co-existence with the fervor, of their eloquence and find no grave but in the hearts of their countrymen.

The American Eagle—May her beak and her talons prove as effective on the Mexican Vulture as they did on the carcass of the the British Lion.

Liberty—It took three hundred years for it to die in Rome, and our Liberty if it dies at all will take much longer, as our intelligence and free institutions, have given us more bone, sinew and vitality.

Mexico.—

"With smooth dissimulation skill'd to grace
A devil's purpose with an angel's face".

The Ladies of northern Indiana, beautiful as the fairies and wise as Soloads, may they never have a coward for a friend or a tory for a husband.

Columbia: may she live and flourish like the green bay tree, and the bright days of her prosperity never have an end.

The Hoosier State, may she speedily rise from her present embarrassed condition, and proudly and honorably take her stand with her elder and more fortunate sisters.

May Honesty, Unity, and Concord preside over our festivities of this day; "for better is a dinner of herbs where love is, than a stalled ox and hatred therewith."

Wunderlich, J. H. Pratt, M. Schroeder, and Dr. A. H. Tyler, Com. of Arrangements.

Whitley County, Ind. July 7, 1846.

Mr. Tigar:

Sir,—The day has again to us returned, that brings to our remembrance the Spirit of Liberty which dwelt in the breasts of our Fathers, and led them to that noble daring, which, under God, has made us a free and happy people. Various are the ways in which this anniversary day of rejoicing is celebrated. It is not my present design either to praise or dispraise any one of the ways; but briefly through you to let the readers of your paper know how this day was celebrated in the East of Whitley County, Ind.

By the hour of eleven o'clock, four S. Schools under the direction of the proper officers were seated in a handsome shady grove.

The exercises were commenced by uniting to sing a S. School Hymn, and then a prayer by the Rev. J. Wolf.

Judge Hanna of Fort Wayne, then addressed the school, and was listened to with much attention and delight by all. He stated, pleasingly and impressively, the peculiar advantages of S. S. instruction; the necessity of their acquiring a proper knowledge of God, and their duty to God, and their fellow creatures, and thereafter, and of doing them. Also that in a few years they would receive from us, to hand down to their successors, the institutions and liberties of our beloved country; and he proved to them, if they would expect to transfer them pure, entire, unimpaired, they must become intelligent and moral.

A recess was now taken, and after all had eaten to satisfy, no noise or disorder of any kind being either heard or seen, the schools again took their seats and very attentively listened to the Judge teaching them the true nature of Temperance and dissuading from dissipation, intemperance, and death.

The schools again united in singing a S. S. Hymn and the public exercises were closed with prayer by Rev. A. Merrit.

DREADFUL CALAMITY.

ST. JOHN'S, N. F., IN RUINS.—An arrival at Pictou, from St. John's, N. F., brought papers containing accounts of a terrible conflagration, by which nearly the whole of that town was destroyed. The advices arrived in Halifax on Monday morning.

The fire commenced at half past eight o'clock, on Tuesday morning, the 12th instant in George's street, off Queen's street, in the room occupied as a dwelling, above the cabinet maker's shop of Mr. Hamlin, and raged until 7 o'clock in the evening, by which time the destruction was complete. It extended rapidly into Queen street and Water street consuming every thing in its progress, all the intermediate buildings, oil vats, wharves, &c. as far as Messrs. Newman's. Here its ravages to the westward were stopped. From Warren's premises it took all the buildings to the eastward, making a clean sweep of wharves, vats, &c. The house of E. & N. Stabb was blown up in an attempt to stop the fire, in doing which one article's man was killed, and another severely wounded.—Queen's street and Duckworth street are destroyed.

In the vats of J. & N. Kent, was the fat of 25,000 seals. The Catholic Church, and Episcopal residence in rear of Duckworth street, were saved. St. John's Church, the Cathedral Church of England burnt to the ground. The Court House, Jail, and all the buildings by which they were surrounded, are consumed—also the Commercial rooms, Marine Insurance office, Agricultural Society's Museum, Bank of British North America. The Congregational Chapel saved—Ordnance store burnt, but the rest of the building saved. The Nunnery School house and Nunnery burnt. Every printing office burnt, but part of the materials saved. Five or six thousand persons had to pass the night of that dreadful day, in the open air in front of the Government House.

The Churches and public buildings which the fire had spared were being hastily fitted up to shelter those who had been rendered houseless. The only mercantile establishment in St. John's now standing, is that of Messrs. Newman & Co. All the rest are destroyed. The Legislature is to be immediately assembled.

The papers mention the loss of life of three persons, two of them artillerymen, occasioned by the blowing up of the house above stated—the other an old man, who had saved his bed and other articles from the flames, but who sunk under the weight as he was carrying them to a place of safety, and immediately expired.

At the least calculation two-thirds of St. John's has been consumed, and the loss of property by this visitation is estimated at a million sterling. Two streets, each a mile long, and a number of detached buildings, have been totally destroyed, and six thousand persons have been rendered houseless.

The New Orleans Commercial Times says: An eminent commercial house of this city, has received instructions to charter a vessel, either for Vera Cruz or Tampico, for the purpose of conveying thither a gentleman who has recently arrived at the north, from England, together with four companions.—The letter to that effect, which has been exhibited to us, states that the party in question is having powerful reasons for avoiding the Havana route, applied to our government at Washington, for permission to proceed to Mexico unmolested, and to charter vessel with that view at New Orleans. The request was not only granted, but instructions have been forwarded to Commodore Conner to facilitate the object of the travelers, by transferring them on board of an English man-of-war from whence they can be easily landed at either of the above mentioned places. The vessel will be ready to leave by the 1st of July.

The gentleman in question is a near relative of the Mexican Ambassador in London, and is waiting, probably at New York, for despatches by the Caledonia steamer, now due. His movements may have some connection with the existing state of affairs in Mexico. At all events, the inference is not improbable.

A TAILOR.—The Mexicans thought Taylor a good workman, and a large number of them gave him a trial. They found him industrious enough, and pretty good at cutting, shipping, and felling, but they couldn't stand his charges.

From Thompson's Recollections of Mexico.

MEXICAN WOMEN.

They have no fine places in Mexico, and I think this circumstance has a very great influence on their character. It is not easy to estimate the moral influence of those family reunions, to which we are accustomed, around the fire side on long winter evenings, which are passed in reading some excellent book, or in conversation not less instructive.

In walking the streets of Mexico, it would be very safe to bet that right out of every ten persons you would meet would be officers, soldiers, friars, or lepers, and it would be difficult to decide which class is the most numerous. All but the last of these classes are not only unproductive, but a charge upon the country. It does not seem to me that the whole productive industry of the country, so far as the Mexicans are concerned and excluding the profits of the labor and capital of foreigners, would be sufficient to support these drones.

I wish that I could in sincerity say that the ladies of Mexico are handsome. Their manners, however, are perfect; and in the great attributes of the heart, affection, kindness, and benevolence, on all they come, they have no superiors. They are eminently graceful in every thing but dancing. That does not "come by nature," as we have the authority of Dogberry that reading and writing do; and they are rarely taught to dance, and still more rarely practice it.

I think that in another, and the most important point in the character of women, they are very much shouldered. I am quite sure that there is no city in Europe of the same size where there is less immorality. Indeed, I cannot see how such a thing is possible. Every house in Mexico has but one outside door, and a porter always at that.

The old system of the duenna, and a constant espionage, are observed by every one, and to an extent that would generally be believed. I have no doubt, however, that whatever other effects these restraints may have, their moral influence is not a good one. The virtue which they secure is of the sickly nature of hothouse plants, which wither and perish when exposed to the weather.—Women, instead of being taught to regard certain acts as impossible to be committed, therefore not to be apprehended or guarded against, are brought up with an idea that the temptation of opportunity is one which is never resisted.

I do not think that the ladies of Mexico are generally well educated. There are, however, some shining exceptions. Mrs. Almonte, the wife of Gen. Almonte, would be regarded as an accomplished lady in any country. The Mexicans, of either sex, are not a reading people. The ladies read very little.

The general routine of female life is to rise late, and spend the greater portion of the day standing in their open windows, which extend to the floor. It would be a safe bet at any hour in the day between ten and five o'clock, that you would in walking the streets see one or more females standing thus at the windows of more than half the houses. At five they ride on the Paseo, and then go to the theater, where they remain till twelve o'clock, and the next day, and every day in the year repeat the same routine. In this dolce far niente, their whole lives pass away. But I repeat, that in many of the qualities of the heart, which make women lovely and loved, they have no superiors.

The war of independence was illustrated with many instances of female virtue of a romantic character, one of which I will mention. And I again regret that I have forgotten the name of the noble woman whose virtue and love of country was so severely tested. The lady to whom I refer had two sons, each of whom was in command of a detachment of the patriot army. One of them was made prisoner, and the Spanish General into whose hands he had fallen, sent for his mother and said to her, "If you will induce your other son to surrender his army to me, I will spare the life of the one who is my prisoner." Her instant reply was, "No! I will not purchase the life of one son with the dishonor of another and the ruin of my country. This fact is historic, and is more true than history generally is.

The ladies of Mexico dress with great extravagance, and I suppose a greater profusion of "spend and gold"—I will not say more barbaric—than any other country. I remember that at a ball at the President's, Mr. Bonaegra asked me what I thought of the Mexican ladies; were they as handsome as my own countrywomen? I of course avoided answering the question; I told him, however, that they were very graceful, and dressed much finer than our ladies. He said he supposed so, and then asked me what I thought the material of the dresses of the two ladies which he pointed out had cost; and then told me that he happened to hear his wife and daughters speaking of them, and that the material of the dresses, blonde, I think, had cost one thousand dollars each. I asked, on the same occasion a friend of mine who was a merchant, what he supposed was the cost of an ornament for the head, thickly set with diamonds of the Senora A——?——. He told me that he knew very well for he had imported it for her, and that the price was twenty-five thousand dollars; the pieces were other diamonds and pearls no doubt of equal value.

I have said that there are very rarely, if ever, any thing like evening parties, or tertulias; social meetings, or calls to spend the evening are quite as unusual, except among near relations, and even then the regulations of espionage are not at all relaxed. Persons who have seen each other, and been attached for years, often meet at the altar without ever having spent half an hour in each other's company. Ladies of the better classes never walk the street except on one day in the year, the day before Good Friday, I believe it is. But they make the most of this their saturnalia; on that day all the fashionable streets are crowded with them, in their best "bibs and tuckers," and glittering in diamonds.

The streets are always, however, swarming with women of the middling and lower classes. The only article of dress worn by these are a chemise and a petticoat, satin slippers, but no stockings, and a rebozo, a long shawl improperly called by our ladies, a mantilla. This they wear over the head and wrapped close around their chin, and thrown over their left shoulder.

Whatever they may be in private, no people can be more observant of propriety in public; one may walk in the streets of Mexico for a year, and he will not see a wanton gesture or look on the part of a female of any description, with the single exception, that if you meet a woman with a fine bust, which they are very apt to have, she finds some occasion to adjust her rebozo, and throws it open for a second. This rebozo answers all the purposes of shawl, bonnet and long body.

The women of Mexico, I think, generally smoke, it is getting to be considered not exactly comme il faut, and therefore do it privately. As the men generally smoke, they have which Dean Swift recommends to all who eat onions, to make their sweethearts do it too.

"The committees, raised to investigate the charges against Mr. Webster, have reported, exculpating the latter. The committees were both composed of the political friends of Mr. Ingersoll, but they could not sustain him in the emergency."

Will Mr. Montgomery, of the Pa. Int. please to inform us how much he intends to make, by publishing such a willful and double faced falsehood, as that contained in the last paragraph of the above? It is well known that the committees are composed, one of those Democrats and two Whigs, and the other of two Democrats and three Whigs.—And more than this, we believe that Mr. M. KNEW this to be a fact at the time he penned the above. He could not help but know it; for at the time the committees were formed, the fact was published in nearly all the papers in the Union.—La Grange Dem.

☞—What does the editor of the Lagrange Democrat mean by always calling our neighbor of the Times Mr. Montgomery? He calls himself Mr. Wood—G. W. Wood—and so publishes his name in the papers; and we presume he ought to know what his own name is. However, as the editor of the Democrat claims to know something of Mr. W's early history, and has we believe the honor to be related to him, he may perhaps have some reason for addressing him by a name different from the one by which he is known here. It however looks a little suspicious to see a man passing by a different name in the west from the one he was known by in the east. Will the editor of the Democrat explain?

From the Boston Courier, a strong and able Whig paper:

MELANCHOLY SUICIDE!—It has become our painful duty to record the death of Major General WINFIELD SCOTT, the Commander-in chief of the United States Army. This unlooked for and forever to be lamented event, which terminated a career of usefulness and honor, happened at Washington on the 6th of June, just as the General was "sitting down to a hasty plate of soup." He prostrated the cash and unwisely set with a gonsquil—"a bare bodkin." He was engaged in an interesting discussion about the "Rio and mutton" on the banks of the Rio Grande, with the Secretary of War. * * *

We mourn for the country, in the deprivation it suffers by the removal of one of its most ambitious candidates for the office of President, and we sympathize most sincerely with the innumerable host of surviving candidates, who are thus deprived of the honor of bearing him in the Presidential race.—We are not yet informed what disposition will be made of the General's remains. It has been suggested that they should be embalmed on the banks of the Rio Grande, where it is known there is abundance of "the el and mutton" in the month of September; but this would hardly be proper, seeing that there would there be exposed to the fire of Mexican guns, while they would as certainly be annoyed by an enemy in "certain quarter" at Washington. Our own opinion is, that they will be allowed to repose quietly in some undisturbed corner of that vast sepulchral region, celebrated as the "Paradise of Fools."

MOSES was a wise and considerate Legislator. He had a due regard for the rights of newly married men, and did not rudely break asunder the "silken tie that binds two willing hearts." The following is one of his enactments:

"When a man hath taken a new wife, he shall not go out to war; neither shall he be charged with any business, but he shall be free at home one year, and shall cheer his wife which he hath taken."—Deut. xxiv—5

Were the same wise and salutary law in force in these degenerate days, what an increase would there be in marriage fees—What crowds would shelter themselves under the matrimonial roof, till the present war tempest had blown over!

"Ma," said an inquisitive little girl, "will rich and poor people live together when they go up to Heaven?"

"Yes, my dear; they will be all alike there."

"Then, pa, why don't rich and poor christians associate together here?"

The mother did not answer.

"A child may ask a question which a philosopher cannot answer." To say nothing of a cassuist, how could a CHRISTIAN answer the above?"

TEXAS NAVY.—A survey of the three vessels comprising the Navy of the late Republic of Texas has been made recently by Capt Randolph, of the U. S. Navy. Their hulls were found to be in excellent order, but the upper works had been much injured by exposure in a warm climate. They are now at Galveston, and only need a trifling expenditure of money to make them a valuable accession to the Navy of the United States.—The "Archer," an 18 gun brig, drawa two feet and a half less with every thing on board than our largest class of schooners. The "Austin," a ship, has a heavier battery for her draught than any of our sloops of war.—The "St. Barnard" is a schooner of 7 guns. These vessels are of superior model, possess fine sailing qualities, and are the very best kind of sea boats, as has been proved by their service in the Gulf of Mexico.

EPISODE IN THE HISTORY OF THE ARMY OF OCCUPATION—THE GENERALS IN CAMP.

The contrast of the two commanding Generals, Taylor and Arista, in the pomp and circumstances of war was characteristic of the different institutions under which they lived. There was a scant barbaric splendor associated with Arista's according with the despotism of the Mexican government. A complexity almost that of Taylor's equally efficient of pure Republican institutions.

The marquee of the commanding General of the Mexican forces was bell shaped, and of great size. The material of which it was composed was ornamented by parti colored stripes, giving it a holiday appearance. Around it were stationed gaily dressed officers who glistened in the sun, and were ever ready to pay the most abject respect to their chief. Led horses richly caparisoned, slowly paced in sight. Protecting as rear like command labyrinthian walls, were arranged the equipage of the camp. Pack saddles for five hundred mules were tastefully placed for display, their lords near by, heaped up in promiscuous confusion. To the rear of Mexican soldier browsed, to the open air, his wealth seemed a vision of a fairy land, and its conventional possessor, rich beyond imagination, and powerful beyond comparison.

Bands of rude music almost constantly rent the air with their noisy labor. The furniture of the marquee was rich; the costly figured sheets of the camp were the ornamental furniture, upon their tops reposed in ostentation the heavy silver services of the table, or the elegantly fine-lined "maps of the campaign."—In this array, sat the commanding General, surrounded by his numerous staff—his clothes of gay colors and laced to vulgar profusion. Visits of business were connected with pomp, and needless delays by long lines of officials arrayed and loaded, and were impudent or cringing as suited their purposes best. Idleness called, salutes and cockery waved, and the hue of inflated greatness and hollow preference was triumphant.

About a mile above the city of Matamoras a little distance from the banks of the Rio Grande, is to be seen (June 1st) some scanted ill shaped trees, which lend their guarded, almost lonliness looks over a group of three or four small tents, only different from those of the common soldier in their size, in this, that they are heterogeneously disposed of for shade, instead of being in a line, regardless of all else than military precision.

The plain about is dotted over with thousands of tents, before many of which were artillery, and groups of men and soldiers; and over some waved in triumphant folds our unusual flag, giving promise of more imposing pomp, than the little knot to which we have particularly alluded. We wended our way on towards the dwarfish tree that were designedly, being a few hundred yards high enough to shade the head, but for the little group of tents that rested beneath them, they were pointed out as making the head quarters of the command. General of a triumphant American army.

Not the slightest token was visible, to mark one tent in the group from another.—There were no sentinels or any military parade present; a shabby sunburnt child, belonging to the camp, was playing over by the grass, temporarily arrested in its wanderings by some insects of unusual size that was delving in the dust. We presented ourself at the opening of one of the tents, before which was standing a dragoon's horse, much used by hard service. Upon a camp stool at our left sat General ——, in busy conversation with a hearty looking old gentleman, sitting on a box, cushioned with an Arkansaw bladder, dressed in Attakapas pantaloons and a linsey roundabout and remarkable for a bright flashing eye, a high forehead, a farmer look, and "rough and ready" appearance. It is hardly necessary for us to say, that this personage was General Taylor, the commanding hero of two of the most remarkable battles on record, and the man who by his firmness and decision of character has shed lustre upon the American arms.

There was no pomp about his tent; a couple of rough blue sheets served for his table, on which were strewn a masterly variety of official looking documents; a quiet looking citizen dressed personage made his appearance upon hearing the insignificant call of "Gen." hearing on a tin salver, of couple of black bottles and shining tumblers, arranged around an earthen pitcher of Rio Grande water. These refreshments were deposited upon a stool, and "we helped ourselves," by invitation. We bore to the General a complimentary gift from a few of his fellow citizens of New Orleans, which he declined receiving for the present, giving at the same time a short, but "hard sense" lecture, on the impropriety of naming children and places after men before they were dead, or of his receiving a present for his services "before the campaign so far as he was concerned was finished."

With the highest possible admiration of the republican simplicity of the manners and character of Gen. Taylor, we bade him good day, with a higher appreciation of our native land, for possessing such a man as a citizen, and of its institutions for moulding such characters.

LET THE PEOPLE REMEMBER!—That during the short time in which the Democrats have had the ascendancy in this State, the expenses of the State Government has been reduced nearly $100,000! One hundred thousand dollars is a pretty snug sum to save in less than three years. Do the people wish to risk a change?—New Alb. Dem.

WHY SHOULD WHITCOMB BE RE-ELECTED?—Is it because the people are averse to an economical expenditure of the public money? or is it because the Democratic State Administration has reduced the State from the odium of repudiation?—New Alb. Dem

SINGULAR UNION.—A marriage extraordinary was celebrated in the church of St. Martin, (Annapaisa,) on the 23d ult. The groom was 91 years of age, and the bride, in white robe and white veil, was 101 years old. Both, without serious infirmities, kneeled down and made their first communion.—A marriage promise had existed between them for sixty five years.

SATURDAY, JULY 18, 1846.

CONGRESS.—By an article in another column it will be seen that the Tariff bill has passed the House. It has been introduced into the Senate, and was made the special order for Monday last, and every succeeding day until it is disposed of. The Senate has passed the bill for graduating and reducing the price of the public lands—Yeas 29, Nays 18. The bill was reported to the House and rejected—Yeas 81, Nays 98. A motion to reconsider was carried by the casting vote of the Speaker, and the House adjourned. It is thought the bill will pass after being amended.

MEXICO.—We have nothing from the seat of war this week of any consequence. Gen. Taylor is still waiting at Matamoras to receive all the necessary supplies before he commences his march to the interior; and some accounts state that he is getting impatient at the tardy manner in which they arrive. Volunteers are daily arriving at the camp, and by the time the supplies and means of transport are received, Gen. Taylor will have under his command a force amply sufficient to beat any thing the Mexicans can bring against him.

It is said that orders have been given to Com. Sloat, commander of the squadron in the Pacific to take possession of the forts in California.—This he has probably accomplished, and we may shortly expect to hear that the American flag waves over all the ports on the California coast.

An attack has been made on some Mexican gun boats at Tampico, by the boats of the U. S. ship St. Mary's, but as the Mexican vessels were securely anchored in an inaccessible position within the bar, and protected by the batteries on shore, nothing was effected excepting the silencing of one of the forts.

MOUNTED RIFLEMEN.—By an advertisement in another column, it will be seen that Lieut. Tipton has opened a recruiting station at Logansport, for the purpose of enlisting men to serve in the new regiment of mounted riflemen raised in pursuance of an act of the present session of Congress. This regiment is intended, we believe, to be chiefly used on the western frontier, as a check on the numerous tribes of roving Indians in that region, and as an escort for the Oregon emigrants. If the war with Mexico should continue, it might probably be ordered to Santa Fe or California; but the chief object being the protection of the Oregon emigrants, the scene of its operations will mostly be on the route between Independence and Oregon. This will be a favorable opportunity for bold enterprising young men to explore that wild and romantic region; it is a chance that will, we should suppose, be eagerly embraced by numbers in this vicinity.

FEMALE SEMINARY.—It will be observed by reference to the proceedings of the friends of education, published in another column, that we are now in a fair way for having a Female Seminary established in our midst, worthy of the place in which we live. This object, so long and so shamefully neglected, has now received an impetus which will speedily result in the erecting of buildings, and the placing the institution on that firm and permanent basis which the merits of this community so much demands. A lot has already been purchased in one of the most elevated and healthy situations in the town, and a subscription opened for the erection of buildings, which has been very cheerfully and liberally responded to; and we doubt not that any additional aid requisite, will be freely be given, more to give to all religious and educational purposes, is the pride and characteristic of our community. We can only add that the institution has our warmest and best wishes for its future prosperity.

GOV. WHITCOMB AND THE VOLUNTEERS.—An attempt is making by the whig press to create a prejudice against Gov. Whitcomb, and to implicate him in the trouble which occurred in relation to the formation of the regiments and election of officers. This is grossly unjust, and shows how little real grounds exist for complaint against Gov. Whitcomb, otherwise the whigs would not be compelled to resort to such unfounded and ridiculous charges. There were a great many office seekers at New Albany, and to their intrigues all the difficulty may be ascribed. The Governor never interfered in the election of officers, and did not even form the regiments until it was manifest that the companies could not come to any agreement among themselves on the subject. The Governor's whole course in this business merits the approbation of his fellow citizens, the grumblings of disappointed aspirants, and the misrepresentation of designing politicians to the contrary notwithstanding. In proof of this, we call attention to the following circular signed by 67 of the volunteer officers, including of course men of both political parties. Among the names we notice Capt. McHenry and Lieut. Lewis of Maj. Anthony's Guard, and Capt. Lasselle, of the Cass Co. Guard, who are all whigs, and had good reason to be dissatisfied with the manœuvering attending the election of officers if Gov. Whitcomb had been at all implicated in these intrigues, they would not of course have signed the circular, but as he had not, they felt it their duty as honorable men, to exonerate him from all participation.

CIRCULAR.

CAMP WHITCOMB, July 2, 1846.

We, the undersigned, officers of the Indiana Volunteers, now encamped at this place, desire, before leaving our shores for the seat of war in Mexico, to express our decided approbation of the conduct of Governor Whitcomb in the military operations generally, as connected with raising, assisting, assembling and organizing the Volunteers at this place. Although many obstacles lay in the way, when the call on Indiana was first made, and during the progress until the final organization of the troops, yet they have all been happily surmounted, and, as we believe, with all practicable expedition.

We are satisfied that his conduct throughout has been governed by a regard for the character of the State, and for the welfare and best interests of the soldier, and that it has merited the preference bestowed upon it by officers of the regular army, when compared with that of other States.

We make this statement as an act of justice, without distinction of party, in view of the many unfounded statements that were afloat.

PASSAGE OF THE TARIFF BILL.

The tariff bill introduced by Mr. McKay, from the Committee on Ways and Means, after some amendments, passed the House on the 3d inst. by a majority of 19; Yeas 114, Nays 95. All the members from Indiana, except Messrs. McGaughey and C. B. Smith, voted for it; as did also Mr. Brinkerhoof and the Ohio Democratic Delegation. The Union says:

"The vote was not sectional. The North, the South, the East, and the West participated in the measure. The largest vote for the bill was from the West. The great, growing and glorious West, is in favor of Free Trade. That vast region, from which the new States, Wisconsin and Iowa, are about emerging, and whose entire representation will, under the census of 1850, at the present rate, reach 100 members, is almost unanimous for Free Trade.

"The following ten states were unanimously in favor of the Bill; New Hampshire, South Carolina, Alabama, Mississippi, Florida, Texas, Illinois, Missouri, Michigan and Arkansas. A majority of votes in favor of the bill was cast by Virginia, North Carolina, Georgia, Louisiana, Indiana, Ohio, Tennessee,—in all eighteen states, for the Bill.—New York was equally divided. Six states were unanimous against the Bill, and in three states a majority of votes were cast against it in all, nine states against the Bill.

"The Democracy of New York covered themselves with glory in their support of the measure. From Pennsylvania, so distinguished in the wars of '76, and 1812, and so ever ready to pour out the best blood of her sons in defence of the country, there was but a single vote in favor—Mr. WILMOT."

The bill passed in that reported by the Committee of which Mr. McKay was chairman. Of its provisions, the Union says:

"It reduces the duties on cottons, on an average, at least 50 per cent. and on woollens at least 10 per cent. and so on with other articles. An effort was made by the Whigs to place salt on the free list. The calculation was that if salt was made free, and the fishing bounty abolished, the former might lose some of the Democratic votes from N. York and the latter might lose the 7 Democratic votes from Maine—and then the whole bill might be defeated. The ayes and nays were taken five times on Salt. At length, however, it was determined not to place it on the free list. The duty has been reduced from 8 cents per bushel, which is equivalent to 100 to 150 per cent ad valorem, to 20 per cent ad valorem."

This vote was carried by 2 majority, and from the moment of its passage, the friends of the bill considered it safe.

Immediately after the passage of the bill, the House adjourned over until Monday, to allow members to celebrate the 4th of July.

Thus has been consummated another of the great measures to which the Democratic party pledged itself in the Convention at Baltimore. TEXAS has been admitted—OREGON has been secured—and the TARIFF has been reduced. With all the details of this bill we cannot pretend to be familiar, and we take it for granted that we would be saying of it than can be truly said of any human achievement, if we should say that it is perfect. But we do not doubt that it is a material improvement upon the Whig Tariff of 1842, and will work better for the country. At all events, let us give it a fair trial. The Washington Union says that it will produce an annual revenue of $28,000,000.

GENERAL GAINES.

A court of inquiry, to consist of Br't Brig. Gen. H. Brady, Brevet Brig. Gen. G. M. Brooke, and Col. J. Crane, members, and Br't Capt. J. F. Lee, recorder, has been ordered by the President to convene at Fort Monroe, on the 18th of July, to investigate the conduct of Br't Major General Gaines.

1st. In calling upon the governors of several of the States for volunteers or militia to be mustered into the service of the United States, between the 1st and 16th of May, 1846; and to examine also into the authority and circumstances under which the said calls were made.

2d. In calling upon the governors of several of the States, between the 16 h of May and 10th of June, 1846, for volunteers or militia to be mustered into the service of the United States; and also in appointing or authorizing certain individuals—from the 1st of May to the 16th of June, 1846—to raise troops to be mustered into the service of the United States; and to examine into the authority and circumstances under which such acts were done.

3d. In organizing and mustering, or causing to be mustered, into the service of the United States, a body of volunteers or militia of the State of Alabama about the 12th of June, 1846; and to examine into the circumstances calling for the said act of General Gaines, in reference to instructions given to him by the Secretary of War, in letters dated respectively the 28th of May and the 1st of June, 1846; and the order of June 2, 1846, relieving him from the command of the western division of the army.

4th. In giving orders, since the 1st of May 1846, to officers of the ordnance, commissary, quartermaster, and pay departments, to issue and distribute ordnance and ordnance stores, subsistence stores, and for the disbursement and payment of public funds to certain designated individuals or bodies of men; and to inquire also whether the persons to whom such issues or payments were ordered or made, were legally in the service of the United States, or properly authorized to receive, or have the custody of public property of money.

The court is ordered to report the facts of the case, and to express an opinion thereon.—Union.

DEPARTURE OF VOLUNTEERS.—The 1st Regiment of Indiana Volunteers, left this city on Sunday evening last, [the 6th inst.] on the steamers Cincinnati and Grace Darling, for their destination on the Rio Grande. Their boats left our wharf amidst the roar of cannon and the cheers of our citizens. As they departed many an eye was moistened by bitter tears, and many a sigh and prayer went up for their welfare and speedy return. God bless the noble souls.—New Alb. Dem

DREADFUL OCCURRENCE.—Lieut PURSEL, of the Miami County Volunteers, was fearfully stabbed in the abdomen by one of his privates, on Saturday last, at the Camp. It appears that the private and another soldier were fighting, and the Lieut. attempted to separate them, whereupon one of them turned round and plunged a knife in his stomach. The culprit was tried by a Court Martial on Sunday morning, and, we believe, was sentenced to be shot. The sentence, however, was mailed up, and together with the prisoner, who was ironed and guarded, sent to Gen. Taylor. The Lieutenant's wound, though very severe and dangerous is not considered a mortal one.—New Alb. Dem.

VOLUNTEERS.—TIME EXTENDED.—In order to afford time for those small Companies desirous of responding to the call of their country, to increase their numbers to the complement required by Act of Congress—64 privates and 13 commissioned and non-commissioned officers—the Adjutant General of the State of Pennsylvania has extended the period in which enrolees may be tendered from the 22nd inst. until Saturday the 11th of July. Nineteen Companies, numbering about 1700 in all, have tendered their services to the President, through his excellency, Gov. Shunk. The Harrisburg Argus says of these nineteen companies of volunteers which have made a bona fide effort to meet the call—and save the State from the disgrace of the resort to a draft.—West Mid Dem

REMEMBER!—When the democrats, with James Whitcomb at their head—took the reins of the State Government in their hands they found the credit of the State in a most pitiable condition, the people borne down by heavy taxes—the expenses of the government most enormous; the finances of the people squandered and the coffers empty.

But what now is our condition? What has Whitcomb accomplished in the short space of less than three years? He has redeemed the credit of Indiana! The taxes of the people have not been augmented! The expenses of the Government have been REDUCED ONE THIRD!! The finances of the people have been carefully and zealously guarded, and judiciously expended!!—And the coffers of the State have been REPLENISHED!!!

And shall we now dispose of WHITCOMB, who has effected so much to restore the State and substitute MAR-HALL, who, as much as any other man, was instrumental in plunging her in debt and ruin! We fancy we can hear the indignant shout of No! Never!! coming from the mouth of every Indianian.—Western Dem.

JAMES WHITCOMB, THE GOVERNOR OF INDIANA, has done his duty in the present crisis like a man. His orders were made out clearly and intelligibly. He promptly provided the means for the volunteers in their march. He came to New Albany, the place of his own residence himself, nearly at the time appointed, and there he has remained to attend to every duty as the occasion called. He has made himself accessible to all, prompt and ready to give every information and satisfaction in his power. The consequence is there has been comparatively little dissatisfaction, and we venture to say the business will be done in order in Gov. Shunk, and quiteless unable in future than in any of our Western States.—Lou. Dem.

ANOTHER TRICK.—It is asserted in various quarters that Paris C. Dunning has quarrelled with Governor Whitcomb, and has declined the canvass for Lieutenant Governor. This is all a fudge. Mr. Dunning is still in the field, and will continue to be so until he is elected Lieut. Governor or is beaten by the votes of the people. Mr. Dunning was anxious to go with the volunteers to Mexico, and they were solicitous that he should accompany them, but at the request of his political friends, he will remain at home and prosecute the canvass in person. So far from declining, he feels perfectly confident of success, and also believes that he could both go to Mexico and be elected Lieut Governor.—Indiana Dem.

RIVER RAISIN BANK.—We infer from a conversation with an intelligent Monroe gentleman that this is likely to prove a bad failure after all. We should doubt whether the assignees have available assets in their hands to any considerable amount. The principal asset seems to be a demand of about $40,000 against Prentiss Daw, of Cleveland, for money lent. Prentiss paper of the Bank, amounting to about $20 000, was also discounted or otherwise used in New York for the benefit of the Merchants Bank at Cleveland, of which Mr. Daw is the principal owner and officer. These two items are supposed to constitute nearly the entire assets of the Bank. Both seem to have gone into the hands of Mr. Daw, and their return must depend upon his ability and disposition. If paid at all, it will probably be in bills of the Bank, when they are depreciated to the low est notch. If there is any brighter side of the picture, we hope some one knowing the facts will furnish it.—Detroit Advr.

Treasury Notes.—A correspondent of the Journal of Commerce, under the date of the 6th, writes that the Committee of Ways and Means reported a bill to authorize the President to cause Treasury notes to be issued for such sums as the exigencies of the government may require.

Not to exceed the sum of $10,000,000 of this emission to be outstanding at any one time; to be issued under the limitation and other provisions of the act of 12th Oct. 1845 except that the authority given by the present bill, shall expire at the end of one year from its passage; then if the President think it for the interest of the country, he is authorized to borrow a part of the amount, not exceeding one half—and to issue stock under the provisions of the act April 25, 1842 extending the loan of 1841 and increasing the same $5,000,000, providing that if the whole amount of the Treasury note, and loans now authorized shall not exceed 10,000,000.—The Treasury notes are not to bear more interest than 6 per cent. No part thereof shall be disposed of at less than par.

NEW SPURIOUS $10 INDIANA NOTES.—The Louisville Courier states that new counterfeits of the ten dollar notes of the State Bank of Indiana have just made their appearance, several of which have been passed in that city. They are dated May 10, 1846 payable at Indianapolis to H. Bates or bearer, letter A; vignette, a naked figure sitting, a sailor pointing to water, and a ship in the distance, at the foot of the note an Indian in a canoe.

THE BUTLER BILL.

To the Holders of Indiana Bonds in the U.S.

Having acted in behalf of a large body of the holders of Indiana Bonds in Europe, in a negotiation with the State for the adjustment thereof; and a law having been passed at the last session of the Legislature making provision for the payment of the bonds of the State on the principles therein expressed, and which has been communicated to the parties abroad. I have received by the Caledonia steamer the following resolutions adopted by the committee in London, having the business in charge viz:

RESOLUTIONS.

1st. That under the circumstances stated in the report of Mr. Charles Butler, confirmed by a letter from his Excellency James Whitcomb, dated 5th Feby last, addressed to Mr Palmer it is the opinion of the undersigned that it will be for the interest of the bond holders of the State of Indiana to concur in the principle laid down in the act of the Legislature passed at Indianap olis on the 19th January last, for the adjustment of the public debt of that State, by the payment of one moiety of the principal and interest by taxation, and the other moiety by the property and tolls of the canal from the State line adjoining Ohio to Evansville on the Ohio river, such property to be assigned to three trustees, and the State to be freed from responsibility on that portion of the debt and interest to be vested.

2nd. That Mr. C. Butler be requested to apply to the bondholders of the State of Indiana, resident in the United States, for their co-operation with bondholders in Europe, in carrying out the arrangement upon the principle stated in the foregoing resolution.

In order to carry out the object of the last resolution, I take this method of respectfully requesting the holders of bonds, who may be desirous of securing the benefits of the law, to call at my office for information on the subject or otherwise advise me of their address, and of the amount held by them respectively, prior to the 11th day of July next. Unless certain provisions of the law be complied with by the first of January, 1847, it cannot take effect. Prompt action on the part of bondholders is therefore desirable.

CHARLES BUTLER,
No. 20 Nassau street, New York.

THE CALIFORNIA EXPEDITION.—This expedition will be prosecuted with vigor.—Col. STEVENSON is a driving fellow, and will lose no time. He is under the patronage of Govs. WRIGHT and MARCY. The volunteers will be made up of mechanics and farmers, as far as possible, with a view to their final settlement in the country which they are about to conquer. Companies from the interior will be invited to join the regiment.—Volunteers will be secured a tract of land at the expiration of the war. It is a good chance for men of ambition and industry, who are willing to run the hazards of a little fighting. The expedition will start on the 1st of August, probably in the North Carolina.

Gen Ureen, who, it is said, is advancing with a force of from three to five thousand men upon Santa Fe, with a view of defending that section of the Republic of Mexico from invasion, is said to be a man of approved courage and military capacity. Should he make his appearance there in time to avail himself of the best point to repel invasion, as he, doubtless, has done, he may give the force under the command of Col. Kearney something to do before possession of New Mexico is obtained. In his absence, however, and with the acknowledged disposition of Armijo to show the Americans all possible favor, very little, if any, opposition will be made to the entrance of Col. Kearney into that department of the Republic. It will be, we suppose, the middle or latter end of August before Col. Kearney can cross the Rio del Norte, and Gen. Ureen, has sagaciously, full time to prepare for his reception.—The prospect of resistance only gives to the expedition a little more interest, and all eyes will be henceforth on the watch for news from that quarter.—St. Louis Repub

THE NORTHERN STATES OF MEXICO.—It is stated that letters have been received at Washington, conveying the information that all the states of Mexico, North of 25 degrees, are preparing to assert their independence of the supreme Government of Mexico, to form themselves into an independent and friendly Republic, under the protection of our flag.—They have signified to our Government their willingness to declare for a provisional administration of their affairs as a Territory of the Union; reserving, however, the right to declare permanent annexation, if such should at a specified time, be the decision of the inhabitants. There is nothing improbable in these rumors, for before the war commenced the northern provinces were disposed to follow the example of Texas, and a strong party it was believed, had declared itself in favor of that course. The conduct of Gen. Taylor, since he has crossed the Rio Grande, and the respect that is paid by the American troops under him to persons and property, have inspired the Mexican people with a feeling strongly in favor of the Americans, while the privileges they now enjoy, of buying and selling free from the onerous restrictions imposed by the Mexican Government, in the way of tariff, have also given them an idea of the advantages to be derived from being under the laws of the United States. It is not singular then, that harrassed to death by their persons and property by civil dissentions and arbitrary and unjust laws, that they should seek liberty and security under the flag of the United States, whose power they have so signally felt, and whose magnanimity, forbearance, and justice they so highly admire.—Phil. Ledger.

CALIFORNIA.—The Washington correspondent of the Philadelphia U. S. Gazette writes:

"You are aware that orders were some time ago sent to Col. KEARNY, of the dragoons to put himself at the head of a body of dragoons and mounted rifl men and to take up his line of march for Santa Fe, and it is supposed he will then be ordered into California. But his presence there will not be necessary, at what I learn be true, and I have it from the best authority, namely, that the Emigrants who have lately gone from Missouri to Oregon and California, number one thousand men rank and file, and are regularly organized into a regiment of mounted men—all men, as every man at least has his rifle.

"This body of men are to proceed to the South Pass with their wives and children, household stuff, flocks and herds, and then, sending the latter, (their families, &c.) to Oregon, with a sufficient escort to protect them, they will proceed themselves, at once to California, where they are determined to effect a revolution, dismiss and send away the Mexican authorities, establish a government of their own, and take formal possession of the Province. About two hundred of these men are hardy mountaineers, who are perfectly familiar with the Rocky Mountains, where they are at home, all of them resolute, brave, determined, energetic men, where no danger can daunt, no obstacle impede, no force, not five or six times their own can defeat. California they have gone to take, and California they will have."

TO THE TRAVELLING COMMUNITY.—It was the good fortune of the subscribers to get on board the Canal Boat NIAGARA, Capt. McMullen, to whom we tender our most heartfelt thanks for his gentlemanly conduct, both as a commander and a man, and respectfully recommend his boat to all who may want to receive good fare, kind attention, and a speedy passage.

FORT WAYNE FEMALE SEMINARY.

Pursuant to previous public notice, the subscribers to the Fort Wayne Female Seminary held a meeting at the "Hedekin House" on the evening of July 14th, for the purpose of electing Trustees for the direction of said Seminary, and the erection of suitable buildings.

On motion of H. McCulloch, Hon. Samuel Bigger was called to the Chair, and John Hough Jun. chosen Clerk.

On motion of P. P. Bailey, the chair then appointed the following persons a committee to nominate Trustees; H. McCulloch, P. P. Bailey, and J. B. Hanna—which committee reported the following nominations: Sam'l. Hanna, Henry Rudisill, B. W. Oakley, Peter P. Bailey, and Hugh Millery and an election being had they were found to be unanimously elected Trustees of the "Fort Wayne Female Seminary."

After a free expression of views on the part of the subscribers who were present, and an apparent determination that a Seminary should be built and carried on commensurate with the wants and importance of our City and surrounding country, the meeting adjourned.

Presentment of the Grand Jury of Allen County.

The Grand Jury would present the County Jail as a PUBLIC NUISANCE; believing the building better suited to the guardianship of a certain Goddess known as having charge of the filthy sewers &c in the city of Rome, than of a Prison House in the midst of the city of our intelligent and enlightened community. Although a similar presentation has been made by almost every Grand Jury for the last ten years, no steps have been taken to abate the nuisance.—Though we would institute no invidious comparisons, or irreverently associate the good with the evil, we would remark that this disgraceful building forms a curious contrast by the side of our churches, and the expenses of the erection of the same, when compared with the continuance of this nuisance forms a remarkable moral episode upon the age That this our protest against the longer existence of this Jail, shall be clearly and fully understood, we here indict and find guilty the old rickety sinking, log Jail, as a most positive, unexcusable, and unendurable PUBLIC NUISANCE.

DIED,—On Sunday last, MARIA CHARLOTTE, third daughter of Judge McMahen of this city, aged 19 years, 8 months, and nine days.

The deceased was of a feeble constitution of body but of vigorous mind, the powers of which she retained in full exercise to the last. Her latter years were full of pain which she bore with Christian patience. About fifteen months before her death she made a public profession of her faith in Christ, and united with the First Presbyterian Church in this place Her piety was unostentatious but sincere, as was shown by its fruits; her faith in her Saviour never wavered. Her affections were sanctified, and in the morning of life being made meet for the inheritance of the saints, she was in mercy called from this vale of tears to her home above, where there is fulness of joy. Each friend wiping away the starting tear, may use the language of her Pastor over her grave—"May my death like hers be that of the righteous, and my last end like hers."

On Thursday morning last, MISS SIDNEY TIMMONS, daughter of Mr. P. Timmons of this city, aged 19 years.

Yesterday, aged 53 years, Mr. JOHN B. BECQUETT, silversmith, formerly of Lower Canada, but for many years a resident of this place.

Same day, aged 40 years, Mrs. ELIZABETH MCCULLOCH, wife of Mr. Alexander McCulloch of this city.

From a letter from an officer in the Pacific, dated at Mazatlan, on the 19th of May, we learn that the news of Capt. Thornton's capture had just reached there, and they were to sail the next day, or the day after, to plant the American flag in California, by the capture of Monterey. At St. Francisco no more opposition was anticipated than Com. Jones met with on the capture of Monterey.

DR. SWAYNE'S

Compound Sy up of Wild Cherry.

The greatest remedy for Consumption, Colds, Coughs, Spitting of Blood, Bronchitis. Difficulty of Breathing, Asthma, Pain in the Side and Breast, Whooping Cough, Croup, and all disorders of the Liver and Lungs, broken Constitution, &c., &c.

THIS "Celebrated Remedy" has now, by its intrinsic virtues acquired a celebrity which can never be shaken by the many quack "Nostrums" with which the country abounds. The public are fast learning that this is the only remedy that can be relied upon for the speedy and permanent cure of all Diseases of the Lungs. It is literally sweeping Consumption from the land wherever it is introduced and becomes known. Mothers shouldn't into indifference; the public have been "humbugged" long enough, and now resort to a medicine which the testimony of the most eminent physicians in the land has placed above the reach of criticism. In requiring or bolstering up by publishing columns of forged certificates—but it is enough to let the public know where it can be obtained, and none trial will convince all of its great efficacy in curing those distressing diseases above named, which have baffled the skill of the most learned practitioners for ages heretofore. "Dr. Swayne's Compound Syrup of Wild Cherry," was the first preparation from that valuable tree, that was ever introduced to the public, and ample proof is afforded of its success, by the country being flooded with "Balsams," "Candies," and "Mixtures" of Wild Cherry, not one of which is prepared by a regular physician. Therefore, the public should be on their guard, and not incur a worthless mixture palmed upon them for the original and genuine preparation, which is only prepared by Dr. Swayne, at the N W. corner of Eighth and Race streets, Philadelphia.

Foreign Periodicals.

REPUBLICATION OF

The London Quarterly Review,
The Edinburgh Review,
The Foreign Quarterly Review,
The Westminster Review,
AND
Blackwood's Edinburgh Magazine.

The above Periodicals are reprinted in New York, immediately on their arrival by the British steamers, in a beautiful clear type, on fine white paper, and are faithful copies of the originals—BLACKWOOD'S MAGAZINE being an exact fac-simile of the Edinburgh edition.

The wide-spread fame of these splendid Periodicals renders it needless to say much in their praise. As literary organs, they stand far in advance of any works of a similar stamp now published, while the political complexion of each is marked by a dignity, candor and forbearance not often found in works of a party character.

They embrace the views of the three great parties in England—Whig, Tory, and Radical.—"Blackwood" and the "London Quarterly" are Tory; the "Edinburgh Review," Whig; and the "Westminster," Radical. The "Foreign Quarterly" is purely literary, being devoted principally to criticisms on foreign Continental Works.

The prices of the RE-PRINTS are less than one-third of those of the foreign copies, and while they are equally well got up, they afford all that advantage to the American over the English reader.

TERMS.

THERE will be trouble in the camp, if persons knowing themselves in debt to the undersigned, either by note or account, which has been standing over three months do not come and settle them without delay, for further indulgence will not and cannot be given. Some have been standing five or six years, and if they are not settled soon they will be handed over to the proper authority for collection. You will please bear in mind that the appraisement law on personal property will not be noticed; and as I have taken James M. Hamilton as a partner with the view of settling up my old business, I hope the above will not be treated as a mere formal notice, and neglected until too late to repent.

April 3. THOMAS HAMILTON.

Mammoth Cave.

HERE we are again at the old Stand, the extreme Eastern store, on Columbia street (North side) with more and cheaper GOODS than we ever offered in this market. It has been said by some of our friends, that we have more Goods than we can sell, but they do not understand how exceedingly low we design selling them, we are determined to sell at prices that will compare with any in this market, and that too without standing in the street to hail every person to buy our Goods. It has been a matter of speculation with men engaged in the Mercantile business, whether it is possible to sell goods in an exquisite manner or not, or in other words, whether it is possible to sustain A One Prices store, where we can sell goods without fair or just dealing. An Extra Price to make up for the low and precious sale. The subscribers wish to say to the public that they have been engaged for the last eighteen months in endeavoring to solve the above question and it is with great satisfaction that we now promulgate the fact that the plan of selling goods at a small advance and uniform price works well, we take this method of informing our customers that we feel gratified for the patronage heretofore so generously bestowed and the public generally, that we have a full and complete stock of Fort Wayne Female Seminary.

THIS institution, as yet in its infancy, has been opened and under favorable auspices, with special reference to the wants of this section of our country. It is the design of the proprietors and principal to render it permanent and efficient, and they hope ere long to put it on a level with the best seminaries of our land.

The government is parental and kind, but decided and firm—enforced by reason and affection—sustained by the Bible, and administered in such a manner as will inculcate the important lesson of self government.

The course of instruction is designed to be extended and thorough, embracing Reading, Orthography, Writing, Arithmetic, Geography, English Grammar; History, ancient and modern, but especially of our own country, Watts on the Mind, Astronomy, Composition, Natural History, Natural Philosophy, Physiology, Political Science, Botany, Chemistry, Astronomy, Geometry, Algebra, Rhetoric, Intellectual and Moral Philosophy, Criticism, Logic, Evidences of Christianity, Analogy of Natural and Revealed Religion, and Music. When requested, instruction will be given in Needle Work, &c. A short time each day will be devoted to CALISTHENIC EXERCISES, adopted to promote health and graceful motion.

Believing that a knowledge of these branches is only a part of education, we would, while endeavoring to furnish the Intellect, take special care to instil right principles, develope the physical and moral powers, and form the manners and habits.

Arrangements are being made for the erection of suitable buildings. As soon as those are completed, a Library will be procured, and a Cabinet commenced by purchases and the contributions of friends.

Instruction in Music, guitar or piano, 6 to 8 00

Cash for 20,000 Bushels

OF WHEAT,

At the Empire Mills.

WE are prepared to pay Cash and the Highest Price for 20,000 bushels of good merchantable Wheat.

Farmers and Teamsters will save themselves much trouble and expense by driving directly up to the STONE MILLS and unloading; they will always get the highest price, and avoid the annoyance of being pestered by the hucker and whipper snappers from the Stores, who now infest our streets and are such a bane to all who bring wheat to our market. We are not much given to boasting; but as some of our neighbors are talking of wanting 10,000 bushels of wheat, we would inform wheat buyers that we can take in 20,000; as our Mill, besides being the best, is the biggest, the highest, and the strongest in the country. We have a convenient WAGON-YARD and STABLE, for teams coming to the Mill, and a HOUSE for the Teamsters; we always furnish feed for the horses, and occasionally throw in Supper and Breakfast for their drivers. There is nothing new with us—we have always thought it our duty to do so, and should not now mention it if our neighbors had not set the example.

We keep constantly on hand FLOUR OF THE BEST QUALITY and all kinds of Mill Stuff; and promptly grind every thing in the shape of Custom Work—always excepting White Oak Tan Bark, at the "face of the Poor."

BY THE QUEEN'S PATENT.

TRIUMPHANT SUCCESS OF

BUCHAN'S

Hungarian Balsam of Life,

THE GREAT ENGLISH REMEDY FOR

Colds, Coughs, Asthma, and

CONSUMPTION!

THE most celebrated and infallible remedy for Colds, Coughs, Asthma, or any form of Pulmonary Consumption, is the Hungarian Balsam of Life, discovered by Dr. Buchan of London, England, tested for upwards of seven years in Great Britain and on the Continent of Europe, and introduced into the United States under the immediate superintendence of the inventor.

The astonishing success of the Hungarian Balsam, in the cure of every kind of CONSUMPTION, warrants the American Agent in soliciting for treatment the worst possible cases that can be found in the community—in them that seek relief in vain from any of the common remedies of the day, and have been given up by the most distinguished Physicians, as confirmed and incurable. The Hungarian Balsam has cured, and will cure, the most desperate of cases. It is no quack nostrum, but a standard English Medicine, of known and established efficacy.

Hear the Press.

*From the Christian Observer, March 20, 1845—*The public may glean the utmost reliance upon the statements respecting the Hungarian Balsam, by Dr. Buchan, the American Agent, who is an old and highly respectable citizen of Boston, a member of a Christian church, and one who would not, for any consideration, give his influence in favor of any sort of deception or imposture.

From the Boston Medical Recorder.—Dr. Buchan, the American Agent, has conferred a great blessing upon the country by the introduction of this great English Medicine into the U. States; and medical journals would materially aid the cause of true humanity, by recommending it to the particular attention of the afflicted.

From the New England Operative.—The Hungarian Balsam has done much to relieve the sufferings of the operatives employed in our cotton factories, who are affected with weak lungs, than all the doctors in the country.

From the Transpontian.—If any thing could reconcile us to a departure from Thompsonian principles, in the treatment of disease, it would be the extraordinary reputation of a medicine like the Hungarian Balsam, which we believe both from careful analysis, and the statement of the inventor, to be a purely vegetable compound. The effect of this medicine, in cases of Consumption, is something truly astonishing.

To the Consumptive!

Every family in the United States should be supplied with Buchan's Hungarian Balsam of Life, and only to counteract the consumptive tendencies of the climate, but to be used as a preventive medicine in all cases of Colds, Coughs, spitting of Blood, Pain in the Side and Chest, Irritation and Soreness of the Lungs, Bronchitis, Difficulty of Breathing, Hectic Fever, Night Sweats, Emaciation and General Debility, Asthma, Hoarseness, Whooping Cough, and Croup.

In case of actual disease of the Lungs, or settled Consumption, it is the only source of hope.

Dr. Folger's Olosaonian,

OR

ALL-HEALING BALSAM.

THE Proprietor of this remedy, in offering it to the public, is actuated by a desire to benefit his fellow beings. From the commencement of his practice in the year 1823 his attention has been particularly directed to the various diseases which afflict the Country, and many of the remedies recommended by different reputable members of the faculty upon those which have applied to him for Medical advice, and are now able to form a correct opinion, not only of the virtues of the remedies commonly prescribed to such sufferers, but also of the availability of the compounds for which the Olosaonian is recommended. He has used the most unwearied attention, during his time to the numerous diseases of the Lungs, in connection with the Liver and Digestive Organs, and has fully investigated the causes which lead to a fatal termination in the above mentioned diseases, and to which may be attributed, in a great measure, to the inattention paid to the early stages of the attack. The frequent solicitations of those who have been signally benefitted by this remedy have induced the proprietor to bring it before the public. He knows, from much experience, that Consumption is a disease which requires all the attention which can be bestowed upon it, and all the aid which a well-informed practitioner of medicine can possibly bring to bear upon that complaint. He has been fully convinced that the practice of treatment commonly pursued will generally lead to fatal results, and it is this conviction which has led him to labor diligently, with a view, if possible, to discover the proper means whereby health may be restored, and the Destroyer of the fair, the young, the heartfelt be overcome. The cures which it has already performed shows that he is not offering a medicine which is worthless, in seeking after a reputation for having discovered a remedy to which he is not justly entitled. It has been used with the most astonishing success when all other means had apparently failed. It has given sweet slumber and repose to those whose rest has been broken by a tiresome and a tedious cough, it has allayed the Pain in the Chest opposed upon the same, and has, in numberless instances, overcome those dreadful symptoms which are often regarded as the precursors of Death viz., the fever and night sweats. It exerts a most salutary influence upon the Diseases of the Digestive Organs, as Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, and Consumption, when all other remedies made use of, not excepting the Blue Pill, seemed to aggravate the complaint. It is no effectual remedy to Asthma, or long standing, especially in that kind which is denominated Periodical or Spasmodic in fact, wherever persons are found who may be affected with Coughs, Colds, Spitting of Blood, Inflammation of the Lungs, Croup, Difficulty of Breathing, Asthma, Bronchitis, Soreness and Pain in the Chest, Dyspepsia, and Derangement of the Liver; this medicine will be found an invaluable remedy.

DR. FOLGER. N. Y. Jan. 3d, 1845.

Dear Sir.—Your Olosaonian has proved a Remarkable Cure in my family. A neighbor in last January called for a cure with Asthma, and had received but little benefit from the various remedies recommended to her until she tried your Balsam. A few doses entirely removed her, and there have been no return of the disease since. I also used it myself for a severe Cough, and gave some to my children, and in every instance with the best results, coming off as in a few hours. I have reminded the Doctor of the fact that I gave to some of his Physicians, who was becoming alarmed at the continuance of a very troublesome Cold and Cough that threatened to lead to consumption. The half bottle entirely cured him. A medicine so unilformly successful should be known and possessed by all.

Yours, &c. A. C. FACTIE M. D.

Dentist, 281 Broadway.

The OLOSAONIAN has been administered with great effect at the "Home for Seamen" in Pearl Streets, under the direction of Captain Cristan. In every case it was given it is known that it produced an immediate cure, and in the various diseases of the Lungs, where relief was made it has proved itself to be worthy of the reputation which it bears as an All Healing Balsam, for in cases where all other remedies have been tried, it has effected a cure.

The Institution for Aged Indigent Females, and most of our other charitable institutions, have also used it with decided success in Asthma and Consumptive diseases. While other remedies Constipate the Bowels, and thus render it necessary to make use of Cathartic Medicines—by which means the good effect one is measured by the evil and great debility produced—this is only taken from those objections, as under its use the Bowels are free. And the curative properties are such that it has not in a single instance been known to fail.

The Proprietor would urge upon the purchaser not to be deceived, as there are many trashy articles offered for the cure of Diseases of the Lungs, which may be forced upon them instead of the one here recommended. The name of Dr. Folger's Olosaonian, or All-Healing Balsam has been given to it to distinguish it from like remedies, and it is hoped that they will not allow any person to put them off with any other medicine when they wish to purchase the one above specified.

Price only one Dollar per bottle.
